Arbitration with Mexico Held Up

BORAH HALTS MEETING OF SENATE BODY

Peace Resolution Will Be Considered Later by Foreign Relations Committee

HINT A. B. C. ACTION

Argentina, Brazil and Chile May Be Called on to Take Part of Mediators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The question of arbitration of United States-Mexican difficulties was temporarily sidetracked in the senate today, when Chairman Borah cancelled the scheduled meeting of his foreign relations committee, due to pressure of other business.

The committee had planned to consider the Robinson resolution for arbitration in the Mexican oil dispute, and also to study a resolution asking withdrawal of American marines from Nicaragua. The committee probably will meet tomorrow.

This method of settling the dispute over alleged confiscatory Mexican alien oil and land laws was proposed by President Calles, of Mexico.

Kellogg Studies Proposal
Secretary of State Kellogg said he was studying the arbitration proposal, but emphatically denied press reports that he had committed himself to such action or changed his Mexican policy.

Renewed Mexican hints that a Washington arbitration offer, or mediation by Argentina, Brazil and Chile is desired stimulated the Borah-Robinson movement.

But while the White House and state department were described as impressed by foreign criticism and the flood of arbitration appeals from prominent American citizens and organizations, there were significant reports that certain American oil interests oppose the proposal.

In some "A. B. C." Latin-American circles here, sympathy was expressed with the idea of mediation by those three powers, but there was no evidence that definite moves had been made.

Hindenburg May Call Election

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—President von Hindenburg today was considering dissolution of the reichstag and a general election, because of Chancellor Wilhelm Marx's failure to form a cabinet to succeed the one headed by him, which resigned last month. It was possible that Hindenburg would designate another Centrist leader, Theodore von Guericke, to form a cabinet. Guericke is more conservative than Marx and would seek Nationalist participation in any cabinet formed by him.

ROAD FINANCING TO BE TAKEN UP IN LEGISLATURE

Old Quarrel Settled by Agreement to Raise Gasoline Tax

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 20.—Highway financing and farm relief are the two most important questions facing the state legislature before it adjourns for the first half of the session, tomorrow at noon.

Harmonious settlement of the ancient quarrel between the northern and southern sections of California over the question of highways and highway financing, with Senator Arthur H. Breed, of Piedmont, as peace-maker, was to be introduced in a series of administration-approved highway bills today.

Would Increase Gas Tax
The measures provide for addition of another cent to the present 2-cent gasoline tax, reclassification of the state's highways into primary and secondary roads, and division of funds on the basis of 75 per cent to completion of primary roads and 25 per cent to secondary—the latter on a "50-50" basis between northern and southern California.

The California State Automobile association and the Automobile Club of Southern California are understood to be in full accord with the measures, as they were drafted with representatives of both organizations.

The assembly gained a lap over the upper house yesterday by working overtime. The lower house continued its session until late in the afternoon, adjourning at 3:30, after having introduced 233 new bills, bringing the total to 553.

With Governor Young's budget message and the important crime law revision bills out of the way, measures designed to help the California farmer were expected in great number during the closing hours of the session.

For Standardization Act
A vigorous fight in behalf of the proposed standardization act, affecting virtually every vegetable or fruit grown in the state, is to be launched by the agricultural legislative committee.

Prexy Quits Under Fire In Arizona

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 20.—The University of Arizona was without a head today, as the result of the resignation of Cloyd Heck Marvin, as president of the institution, culminating three years of bitter opposition by political leaders of the state.

At the same time, four members of the board of regents tendered their resignations.

The initial trouble started four years ago, when Marvin came here from the University of California, Southern Branch, and has never completely subsided.

Last spring, Marvin was charged with inefficiency, lack of integrity and truthfulness and the university regents conducted an investigation. It was charged that Marvin was not properly qualified to hold office, but no drastic measures were taken at that time.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Gold shipments by air are on the increase. Bankers have found that the interest saved by speed more than pays for the chartering of airplanes, according to Sir Samuel Instone, airplane manufacturer.

"In one year we carried bullion worth 10,000,000 pounds across the channel," said Sir Samuel in a Rotary luncheon speech, "and, owing to the speed at which it was transported, the saving in interest was more than sufficient to pay not only for the cost of transport but for the insurance as well."

Commercial aviation in time would be a success, he said, but he urged the directors had not found a practical economic commercial use for the regulation uniform so as to not exist a flying boat that could be relied upon to carry a useful load.

New Uniform for German Soldiers

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—The German army will look less like the monarchical war machine of old and feel more comfortable when the ministry of war finishes a plan to alter the regulation uniform so as to eliminate the close-fitting collar.

BOND PLACED AT $25,000 IN GIRL CASE

Oil Worker at Huntington Beach Charged with Assault on Young Divorcee

WITH HIS alleged victim reported dangerously ill, Edward Driscoll, Huntington Beach oil worker, charged with a criminal attack upon Jean Brunswick, 20-year-old divorcee, of Santa Ana, was placed under $25,000 bail by Justice Kenneth E. Morrison today, when his case came up for preliminary examination.

The examination was postponed to January 27 because the serious illness of the girl prevented her from appearing in court as a witness today. Driscoll had been held under $10,000 bail since his arrest a few days ago, but when Justice Morrison learned from District Attorney Z. B. West Jr. that the girl was in a critical condition, with the possibility that she might not recover, the bail was increased.

Two Names Kept Secret
Details of the case were first made public today, while one victim of an alleged brutal attack upon two girls by two youths battled for her life after a losing fight for her honor. The name of a 17-year-old Anaheim girl and that of a companion of Driscoll, who were said to have also figured in the case, were not made known by the authorities. The second youth has not yet been apprehended.

According to information given the authorities, Jean Brunswick and the younger girl attended a dance at Huntington Beach on the evening of January 13. Four youths induced them to leave the location in a car belonging to one of the accused. There was a visit to a certain notorious house for the purpose of obtaining liquor, it was said. Two of the boys left the party at that point. Driscoll and the other man, now being wanted, were left with the two girls.

Girls Appeal for Help
Some time later, it was said, the two girls, disheveled and covered with bruises, appeared at an oil derrick where two men were at work. They appealed for protection from the two youths who shortly followed them. Protection was given them, but eventually the youths summoned a taxi and the girls returned with them to Huntington Beach. They refused to accompany the youths into Driscoll's house, where the taxi driver was forced to interfere to prevent them from receiving further rough handling. Driscoll and the other man then left the girls, who were forced to pay their own way in the taxi cab to Santa Ana.

Reaching Santa Ana, the two hysterical girls told their story. Jean Brunswick was placed under a physician's care. The physician stated today that, besides severe bruises and nervous shock, she is suffering from a serious attack of quinsy, induced by the effects of exposure, and is threatened with pneumonia. At one time her temperature ranged as high as 104 degrees. Her condition today was slightly improved, however, the physician said.

Girl Recently Divorced
Jean Brunswick was divorced from Raymond E. Berco, of Santa Ana, several months ago. The report of her dangerous illness, when made in court today, visibly affected Driscoll, the accused man. His face paled, and he had a strained look as he left the courtroom. Driscoll was nattily dressed in a dark blue suit, with his shiny, black hair, smoothly combed back.

WOMAN SERIOUSLY ILL

Two More Are Hunted in Connection with Affair On Night of January 13

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 20.—Gov. C. C. Young today appointed William C. Wood as school superintendent of public instruction.

Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, today handed his resignation to Gov. C. C. Young, to accept the governor's appointment as state superintendent of banks.

William John Cooper, superintendent of schools at San Diego, formerly of Fresno, was named by Governor Young to succeed Wood as school superintendent.

Wood explains in his letter of resignation that he "cannot continue at the present salary."

Wood's letter goes on to state that he has remained at his post "for a long time at a great personal sacrifice, in order to vindicate certain principles and policies."

"Happily it is no longer necessary to serve further, since the vindication of these principles and policies is now full and complete," Wood added.

"In taking this step, I do so most regretfully," Wood declared in his letter to Governor Young. "I have enjoyed the work of my present position and have appreciated the loyalty and friendship of the many thousands of people who have helped me raise California to first rank in public education."

FOREIGN SECRETARY CALLS PARTY CHIEFS TO CONFER ON GRAVE PERIL IN CHINA

England Prepares to Dispatch Eighth Destroyer Flotilla to Augment Armada in Far East

LONDON, Jan. 20.—British difficulties in China today were formally recognized as having developed major importance when Sir Austen Chamberlain, the foreign secretary, summoned Ramsay MacDonald and David Lloyd George to the foreign office to confer with him. The two opposition leaders met the foreign secretary separately, in compliance with the British tradition that leaders of minority parties in the house of commons be informed fully regarding serious international situations.

Chinese Nationalists had shown no disposition today to back down before the British in the Yangtze valley and it was understood that another squadron of British warships would soon depart for Far Eastern waters. The eighth destroyer flotilla merely awaited completion of refitting work aboard the flotilla leader, Ibruce. Four vessels of the first cruiser squadron were enroute to China today to join the 27 British warships already at the China station.

Far from being awestruck by western armed forces already in China, or by reports that warcraft were racing toward their country, the Chinese leaders, according to reports received here, even discussed the possibility of the north joining the south against foreigners, if force were resorted to in the Yangtze valley. Dispatches continued today to report attacks on missionaries in the province of Shansi, where the "Christian" general, Feng Yu Hsiang's troops were said to be inciting anti-Christian feeling.

WOMEN, CHILDREN ORDERED TO LEAVE
PEKING, Jan. 20.—The U. S. consul at Poochow today ordered all women and children to leave the city after a new outbreak of rioting.

Fifty-seven women and children fled the city several days ago. After prolonged demonstrations, in which several persons were shot, the Chinese authorities placed 100 rioters under arrest.

Thirty Spanish priests and sisters, who fled from Poochow after anti-foreign demonstrations, were ennobled by a mob which boarded their vessel at Moy and permitted them to depart only after sealing one priest as a hostage, advices received here said.

The sisters and priests were driven from their quarters at Poochow when the Chinese accused them of murdering Chinese children, whose bodies were found in the orphanage.

800 AMERICANS AND BRITISH IMPERILED
SIANGHAI, Jan. 20.—Upwards of 800 British and Americans were in peril in the province of Szechuan today, consular advices here said. Women and children have been ordered to evacuate the area.

By erection of additional barricades and the enlistment of mercenaries and volunteers, foreign authorities here continued today to prepare for the expected of the bygone attack on Shanghai, where are collected customs dues, which would provide an army with ample funds.

Transportation will be a difficult problem in the evacuation of women and children from Szechuan province, because of seasonal low water in the Yangtze.

Kemal's Divorced Wife In Seclusion
CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 21.—Latife Hanoum, divorced wife of President Kemal, is living in a complete and even mysterious retirement, reminiscent of the bygone seclusion of Turkish women. During the year since the divorce she has remained invisible in the Constantinople home of her father, a wealthy merchant.

CANNED HEAT KILLS MAN
FRESNO, Jan. 20.—Canned heat was the cause of the death of Frank Boyle, 36, in the county jail here, last night, police declared today. Boyle died shortly after he was arrested for being intoxicated.

MAN NABBED ON CHARGES OF MURDER AND BIGAMY
MINOT, N. D., Jan. 20.—Earl J. Clark, of Los Angeles, started back to the California city in custody of two deputy sheriffs today, to face charges of murder and bigamy.

Clark, known here as Jack Mulhall, came to Minot some time ago. Shortly after his arrival, he married a Minot girl. More recently, two Los Angeles deputies slipped into town, placed a watch over Clark, and Wednesday brought about his arrest.

Minot police said Clark admitted killing a sailor during a brawl on the west coast. He also is charged with deserting a wife and children in Los Angeles to wed the Minot girl.

Mrs. Clark No. 2, loath to believe the charges against her husband, did not accompany him on the return trip.

Murray was indicted three years ago, following investigation of the promotion of stock sales in the Coalings-Kern Oil company. According to post-office inspectors, who investigated the company's activities, Murray did not profit by the promotion.

For a number of years, he has been prominently connected with a number of state societies.

THIS influenza epidemic, now spreading in Europe and destined of course soon to reach America, is evidently more serious than the mild annual outbreaks of the past few years, but there is little or no reason to fear a repetition of the terrible scourge which 'overspread' the world at the close of the war.

In the first place, serious outbreaks of epidemic influenza occur normally only at much longer intervals. And in the second place, the culture-fields for the intensification of the virulence of the infecting organisms, then found in army and concentration camps, no longer exist. There is occasion for caution, but not for alarm.

THE first caution is to take "a common cold" seriously. It has, in fact, always been a mistake to treat so common an ailment carelessly. Because colds mostly cure themselves, and because there is no specific pill that will cure them, we have inclined to treat them as of no importance. As a matter of fact, a cold is a contagious and potentially a serious disease. When it does not cure itself, as a certain number do not, the next stage is decidedly important. Even when it does cure itself, it often leaves hidden traces which break out later. And it is contagious. When you have a cold, keep away from other people, for their sakes. And take care of yourself, for your own sake. This is a good general rule. And it is especially important, now and for the next few months, when what looks like a cold may be the forerunner of serious influenza.

IT WILL be perhaps twenty years before the next great outbreak of the influenza, in real scourge form, is due. Meantime there is hope that medical science may solve the mystery of this last of the uncontrolled plagues. The rest have ceased to frighten mankind. The bubonic plague is an oriental curiosity. Typhus is impossible, where there is personal cleanliness, and typhoid has almost disappeared, under public sanitation. Smallpox would become extinct, in ten years, if the knowledge now available could overcome its only present obstacles, which are ignorance, prejudice and dogma. Yellow fever is extinct, and the more serious forms of malaria in the way of becoming so. The "children's diseases"—diphtheria, mumps, chickenpox, measles, scarlet fever and the like still remain, but they are less serious, and there are prospects of bringing them, under complete control in the near future. But the influenza still remains, uncontrolled. Our only present safety is the fact that twenty-nine times out of thirty it comes in mild form. The hope is that before, the thirtieth time comes, medical science will have learned to cope with it, as it has with the others.

INCIDENTALLY, it is interesting to remember that, when the United States gets its news of the present state and spread of the epidemic from the League of Nations. The International Health Office is one of the most useful organs of the League, and, somehow, we do not feel contaminated in dealing with it. Disease knows no national lines. Neither does business, art, education, or the movement of civilization generally. In the case of disease, we have plucked up courage to recognize it. And we have not even thought it necessary to set up a new "Association" of nations to look after that problem, to escape the terrible word "League."

NEED FOR CANYON DAM IS STRESSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The need for enactment of the Swing-Johnson Boulder dam bill was stressed today by supporters of the measure before the house rules committee.

The committee was urged to act favorably on a resolution giving the dam a preferential status in the house.

Opponents of the bill began a vigorous attack on it, but were unable to conclude. Another hearing is expected in a few days.

Favorable action on the rule for the bill was urged by Representatives Smith, Republican, Idaho, chairman of the irrigation committee; Taylor, Democrat, Colorado; Winter, Republican, Wyoming; Arentz, Republican, Nevada. Leatherwood, Republican, Utah, opened arguments for opponents of the bill.

Smith gave the committee a general outline of the geographical aspects and quoted portions of his committee's report on the bill.

Taylor said the Colorado river was the country's greatest asset. He estimated its value at $10,000,000,000.

Pasadena Man Is Given Dry Post

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—Capt. Frank E. Benedict, of Pasadena, has received the appointment as assistant to Maj. Frank R. McReynolds, successor to Col. Robert Prith as federal prohibition administrator for Southern California and Arizona.

Captain Benedict takes the place left vacant by Maj. Blaine A. Dixon, who resigned with Col. Prith. Benedict is a member of the U. S. Army air reserve corps.

The appointment of Col. Leo V. Broome, of San Bernardino, as agent of the revenue department on "special assignments," relating to enforcement, was announced at the same time.

MOTHER KILLS SELF AND CHILDREN WITH RAT POISON

TRACY, Calif., Jan. 20.—A mother and two children were dead here today and two other children were in a serious condition, from rat poison fed to the family by the mother in food.

Mrs. Mary Hannon, 35, and Willie, 13 months, died within a short while after eating the poisoned meal.

Two other children, Mary, 4, and Josephine, 3, were rushed to a hospital at French Camp and are not expected to live.

Manuel Hannon, the father, returned home late last night and found his wife and the two dead children in the kitchen. The other two were writhing on the floor.

Hannon was unable to account for his wife's act, saying she had given no indication of planning such a tragedy.

Oil Station Man Kidnaped, Robbed

GLENDALE, Jan. 20.—Kidnaped from his oil station early today, by two bandits, A. B. Pratt, was taken to a deserted spot near the Los Angeles river and robbed of $44, according to a report made to deputy sheriff.

Pratt had just arrived to open his service station when the men stepped forward, and, under threat of death, forced him to lie down in the rear of his car.

After robbing Pratt, the bandits drove him back to the oil station and escaped in their own machine.

STREET CARS CRASH
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—A rear-end collision of two Los Angeles railway street cars, here early today, resulted in minor injuries to five persons. The accident was attributed to slippery rails.

Ham and Eggs Are Liked by English
LONDON, Jan. 21.—Ham and eggs is the favorite dish of the British lawmakers when the house of commons has an all-night sitting. On these occasions, says the parliamentary restaurant manager, the members frequently consume about 1500 pounds of salt meat and about 800 eggs.

BLAST STARTS FIERY FIRE IN SAN FRANCISCO

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—Following a terrific explosion of uncertain origin, fire here early today swept a section of the city's automobile row on Van Ness avenue, with early estimates of the loss placed at $200,000.

The flames raged in the block between California and Pine streets, and within a few moments of the explosion, every building on the east side of the street seemed to burst into smoke and flames.

Apartment houses in the district were shaken by the blast, and residents poured into the street in their night clothes.

Within 30 minutes after the fire started, the following business houses were flame swept:

U. G. Meyers battery store, The Hood Tire company, Postal Telegraph branch office, A retail candy store.

Other concerns suffering either complete loss or damage included: S. B. Sargent, tire dealer; Eugene Miner, automobile repairs; T. E. Ebery, accessories; Vitti cigar store; George Parker repair shop; Ritchey Auto Maintenance company and Weber Auto Top company.

Three alarms summoned all the available fire-fighting equipment in the city, and a desperate fight was waged to save underground storage tanks of the Associated Oil company and nearby automobile agencies.

A fire tower and high pressured nozzles were rushed into action in the center portion of the block, while more than 100 hoses played upon other portions of the block to prevent flames from spreading.

The fire started in the Sargent store. A. G. Wachter, night watchman, telephoned an alarm at the first explosion. Flames burst into his room on the second floor and he was forced to jump to the street, escaping without serious injuries.

Four or five other explosions followed at short intervals. Drivers for the Yellow Taxicab company aided firemen, after rolling 70 taxicabs from the company's garages, which were crunched. Machines were pushed from other buildings, and in a few minutes the street was jammed with motor cars and fire trucks.

A blazing flag pole, 40 feet long, crashed from a roof into a group of firemen. They all escaped injury.

Forty automobiles stored in the destroyed buildings were lost, while the Sargent Tire company lost a big stock of new tires.

Preliminary investigation failed to reveal the cause of the fire.

ent Nicaragua-Mexican policy, and continued professional and public appeals for arbitration may hasten the administration's decision, it is said.

OIL COMPANIES SEEK DECISION BY COURT
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 20.—While discussion of arbitral settlement of the oil law dispute between Mexico and the United States continued today, foreign oil companies had begun a concrete form of arbitration by legal action to obtain a supreme court ruling on the constitutionality of the disputed law.

Those developments were the major factors in the complicated position of the Calles government, which is confronted with rebellion and some labor trouble at home, and with international friction with the United States here and in Nicaragua.

The Mexican government apparently has taken Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg's approval of the principal of arbitration potentially applicable to Mexican-American differences, as a reply to President Calles' statement of January 8, in which the Mexican president expressed reluctance to accept arbitration, but explained that it might be necessary "to adopt the lesser of two evils."

Thirty-one oil companies have filed injunction suits to restrain the government from enforcing the petroleum law. The suits were brought against Calles, both houses of the Mexican congress, Secretary of Labor Morones and Attorney General Ortega. The Agulla, Haus-teca, Richmond and Transcontinental oil companies were among the 31 companies which asked injunctions.

First, the companies sought temporary suspension of the laws for 72 hours, and second, a decision during the week end whether the injunctions could be made permanent. If the decision goes against the companies, they will appeal to the supreme court.

Calles has made no comment on Kellogg's statement. General Alvarez, his chief of staff, said the president had nothing to add to his statement of January 8. Alvarez suggested a line of demarcation beyond which would not permit arbitration to enter into the question. Mexico, he said, would not submit her sovereignty to arbitration, meaning that the constitutionality of the oil and land laws, regularly enacted by the congress and approved by the president, could not be subjected to arbitration, although the question of demarcation to private interests arising from enforcement of the laws might be adjusted.

It appeared that the Mexican government was in a receptive mood toward arbitration within the limits suggested by Alvarez.

Meanwhile, the rebellious menace to Calles' government persisted, although reports of federal commanders to the war department indicated that the disorganized opponents of the Calles regime were being defeated whenever the federals could engage them in battle.

Undesirable Is Escorted To City Limits

Warren Barnes, 43, itinerant fireman, who yesterday broke all records by being back in the county jail on a drunk charge just three hours after he had been released after serving a term of such a charge, no longer is in Santa Ana.

On an agreement that he should leave the city, never more to return, Judge J. F. Talbott today gave the man a 60-day suspended jail sentence.

In order to accelerate his departure, a police car escorted Barnes to the city limits.

ULSTER LEADER IS HONORED BY ENGLISH KING

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Two viscounts, three barons, two privy councillors and seven baronets are created by King George in the new honors list. The outstanding honor is a viscounty conferred on Sir James Craig, premier of northern Ireland, who formerly ranked with Lord Carson as the greatest Ulster opponent of home rule for Ireland.

The Ulster premier, it is understood, will take the title of Viscount Craig-avon from his Belfast home.

The other viscounty is conferred on Lord Sumner, who has been a lord of appeal since 1913 and was a member of the reparations commission in 1919. The new barons are Sir George Hayter Chubb, chairman of the Nonconformist Conservative association since its foundation in 1886; Col. Pienness S. W. Cornwallis, formerly member of parliament for Maidstone and chairman of the Kent County council, and Sir Charles Greenway, Bart., who is president of the Anglo-Per-sian Oil company.

The best known figure among the new baronets is Sir Joseph Duveen, art dealer, who has negotiated the transfer of several of this country's artistic treasures to the United States. Privy councillorships are conferred on Hon. William Ormsby-Gore, under-secretary of state for the colonies and Sir Leslie Scott, formerly Solicitor General.

Fifteen women are included in the lists of various orders, the most prominent among whom is the Dowager Countess of Jersey, who becomes dame commander of the Order of the British Empire. This honor is sure to be popular in companionship to the honor conferred on Rev. H. R. L. Sheppard, chaplain to the king and one of the best known preachers in London up to his recent resignation as vicar of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields.

The outstanding name on the foreign office list is that of Miles Wedderburn Lampson, recently appointed minister to China, who becomes a knight as knight commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

Perpetuation of Motion Attracts Many Inventors

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Even knowledge of the realistic laws of mathematics does not make inventors immune to the romantic lure of one of the oldest fallacies cherished by human beings.

Belief that inanimate matter can be so patterned that it will, after receiving an initial human impulse produce perpetual motion is shown by the patent office records to remain the cardinal faith of an astonishing number of dreamers.

Many lots of considerable erudition, and some have to their credit inventions of sound worth. Most of them have experienced the elation of apparent success until their little machines were stopped by the laws of nature.

A sketchy record of broken hopes extends far back into the files of the patent office. The only estimate of the number of applications to patent perpetual motion devices received since the office was established is a vague "thousands." None of the devices has been found patentable after examination by experts.

ANNOUNCEMENTS
Business and Professional Women will have their monthly book review meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock with Miss Mabel McFadden, 206 North Main street, where "The Romantic Comedians" by Ellen Glasgow and a book on non-fiction will be reviewed.

Ebel's Third Household Economics section members are reminded of the meeting tomorrow afternoon when Mrs. Amos N. Cox will be hostess in the Finley hotel which Mr. and Mrs. Cox recently took over. The session will begin at 2 o'clock.

The third lap of the Electric Golf tournament being held at Santa Ana Country club for feminine members, was to open this morning and will continue until January 21. Prizes will be awarded the holder of lowest score and to the one who betters her score.

The Edison Women's Social club will hold a meeting Friday, January 21, at 2 p. m. in the Edison club rooms. All Edison wives are invited to attend and a large gathering is hoped for.

The Past Presidents' association of the Santa Ana Woman's club will be entertained at Ketter's, Saturday, January 22, at 12:30 p. m. Mrs. M. J. Marks, Mrs. George J. Mosbaugh and Mrs. Frank Ey will be hostesses at luncheon.

LITA TO AGAIN TAKE STAND IN ALIMONY CASE

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Abandoning further interviews with the press, Charles Chaplin today issued a statement through a representative in which he said he would return to Los Angeles to combat the divorce suit brought by his wife.

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—Marking her second court appearance since filing a sensational complaint for divorce, Lita Grey Chaplin was to take the witness stand here today and possibly place more troubles on the slender shoulders of her actor husband.

In accord with the order of the court that Chaplin pay $5000 alimony at once, $4000 of which is retroactive, Mrs. Chaplin will testify as to whether the comedian has met the alimony allowance fixed by Judge Walter Guerin.

Time limit on payment of the alimony expires at 2 o'clock this afternoon and William K. Young, one of Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys, announced that, unless the alimony was paid, he would demand the arrest of Chaplin on his return to the jurisdiction of California courts.

Would Force Payment
Counsel for the girl wife said they would ask that the court order the receivers to pay the alimony from personal accounts of Chaplin, unearched by the receivership. The accounts total approximately $17,000, it was said.

Attorneys for the comedian are expected to make an offer concerning the support of the children, when the alimony hearing is called. Efforts to lift the receivership of the Chaplin corporations were apparently at a standstill, following the fixing of a record surety bond of $10,000, which the actor must post before receivers can relinquish possession of Chaplin's holdings.

The total assets of the comedian, as revealed by records taken from the studio vaults, amount to only $1,446,437.55, although his fortune has been variously estimated from $3,000,000 to $16,000,000.

Claims Books Missing
In setting the bond, which Chaplin's counsel fought bitterly to lower, Judge Walter Guerin declared that information had been withheld from the court and that the minute books of the Chaplin corporations were missing.

"Until I know definitely just what the assets are I must guess, and if I guess it will be to protect the interests of the plaintiff in the case," he said.

Attorney Lyndol Young, representing Mrs. Chaplin, declared that, in his belief, some of the comedian's assets had been hidden. He charged that the negative of "The Circus," Chaplin's uncompleted picture, had been shipped to Chaplin's New York office, to be held there, pending settlement of his marital troubles.

In asking that a high bond be set, Young said "bold Rush," the last picture Chaplin released, was making an average return of $200,000 a year, with the possibility that it would continue at that pace for five more years.

Details of Funds
Chaplin's attorneys ask that the records found by the receivers in the vaults be made public and the following statement was read into the court records:

Check book balances of the Chaplin Studios, Inc., $5587.23. Bank balances of the Regent Film company in one Hollywood and one New York bank, $292,665.85.

Five lots in Beverly Hills and Hollywood, value of which is not given.

Note from Samuel Goldwyn, independent film producer, which falls due May 3, 1927, $150,000.

Bank balances and pass books credited to Chaplin's personal account in nine banks of Hollywood, New York, England and France, for a total of $74,547.09.

Total of 55,000 shares of United Artists' corporation stock at a par value of $1 a share, $55,000.

Common stock of the Art Finance corporation, $37,000.

CHAPLIN READING PHILOSOPHICAL BOOKS
NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—In the library of his attorney, Nathan Burkan, Charles Chaplin today immersed himself in philosophical works, in an effort to maintain that composure of mind which made it possible to recover from a mental collapse in less than a week. It was Chaplin's first day out of bed since last Friday. He was gradually recovering his strength, which he will need for his return trip across the continent to face his legal battles.Soft Corns

Court Notes

Examination Is Postponed

The preliminary examination of Floyd Tibbets, charged with committing burglary at the New Way laundry, was postponed to January 26, when the case came before Justice Kenneth E. Morrison today for preliminary hearing. Tibbets, it is said, is in the county hospital with a broken jaw. His injury was received in a "gang fight" just before his arrest on the burglary charge. The burglary was said to have taken place last September 23.

Husband Asks Decree

Lloyd Herrington today had a divorce suit on file in superior court against Myrtle B. Herrington, who was charged with desertion. The couple married in Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1911, and separated in 1923. They have no children. Attorneys C. B. Diehl and Leroy P. Anderson, of Costa Mesa, represent the plaintiff.

ARMY OF MICE CONTINUES IN BIG ADVANCE

(By United Press)

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 20.—With the army of "millions" of mice still on a rampage, residents of the Buena Vista lake region, near here, today eagerly awaited the arrival of S. E. Piper and Norman G. Buhn, specialists in the extermination of mice.

Piper is on his way here from Washington, D. C., where he is connected with the bureau of biological survey. Upon his arrival here, he is expected to take charge of the situation with the assistance of Buhn, who is superintendent of rodent control for the state.

Whit C. Barber, Kern county horticultural commissioner, refused to comment on the situation today, on the grounds that his statements are detrimental to Kern county.

"I have nothing to say except that the situation is better," Barber declared. "I cannot estimate the percentage of mice that have been killed nor can I estimate the number of men who are aiding in exterminating the mice. Everyone in the affected district is working against the rodents."

According to Barber, the city of Bakersfield is not in danger today and there is no possibility that small animals will gain access to this city.

Poisoned grain is still being spread over the land in large quantities and this has proven the most effective method of killing the mice.

Ditches are being dug around the territory where the mice are most abundant, which has been estimated as 15 miles square. The poisoned grain is being placed in these trenches and the appetites of the mice are expected to prevent them from scampering very far beyond the boundary lines.

As the extermination of the pests increases, the problem of the disposal of their bodies is added to the troubles of those directing the warfare against them. Today thousands of dead animals were being raked into large piles and burned. Others were being removed by trucks to unpopulated districts.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
It is because you realize and emphasize what God has done for you and the blessings you have enjoyed that you are able to love Him and that you are able to love others. It is because you know that you are impelled to be charitable toward others and to help them all you can, because you know what God has done for you.
As you grow stronger and bear your grief, your impulses and your ability to steady and support your grief-prayed fellows will grow.
As you do, you will make you glad.

TRIO ARRESTED ON FAILURE TO APPEAR COUNTS

Three motorists, wanted in various counties for failure to appear in answer to speed tickets, were arrested yesterday by F. G. Yoder, state traffic officer. Two made bail for their appearances and the third went to jail.

Wanted in Tehama county, Albert Heterink, Fullerton man, was arrested at his home. He made bail of $250 for his appearance in Red Bluff, Calif., rather than accompany the officer to jail.

R. C. Childs, Long Beach, was arrested for Orange county authorities on a charge of not appearing in San Juan Capistrano at the time mentioned on his ticket.
He made bail of $100.

Unable to furnish the necessary bail, A. J. Stevens, Fullerton man, went to jail last night on a charge of failure to appear in answer to his ticket. He is wanted in Los Angeles county and was taken there early today by state officers.

Angeles, old Portland friends, yesterday.

Mrs. Jack Wendell and little son, Jack Jr., are guests at the home of Mrs. J. R. Paine, 1815 North Main street. They came last Sunday.
The Wendell family formerly resided on West Nineteenth street, and now are living in Yuba City. Miss Elizabeth Paine had as her guest last week her friend, Mrs. C. W.
Clegg of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Joseph Yech, Miss Hetty
Hayes and E. W. West motored to Inglewood yesterday to attend the funeral of Mrs. George Bessonet, pioneer of Santa Ana and Southern California.

Plan Bridge Party

The date of February 9 has been selected for the bridge party which Daughters of the American Revolution plan to present in the beautiful new home of the Richard A.
Emmons, North Park boulevard.

Chairmen of the various committees appointed by the regent, Mrs.
Charles F. Smith, met yesterday morning with Mrs. Emmon to perfect their plans, when a survey of the spacious rooms and beautiful furnishings of the home called forth admiring exclamations and the committee members congratulated themselves upon having the opportunity to stage their party in such a uniquely beautiful environment.

Members of the society wishing cards for the affair to dispose of among their friends may obtain them from Mrs. J. C. Metzgar or Mrs. W. H. Haddon.

B. P. O. E. Party Is Highly Successful

Another one of those delightful evening card and dancing parties, for which the Elks are famous,
was given Tuesday, with the usual fine attendance. The committees in charge selected the "Elks" colors, purple and white and achieved a very beautiful effect, the tully cards and other appointments harmoniz-ing.

Thirteen tables were occupied with card players, bridge and 500 being the games. The prize winners for 500 were Arthur Pease and Mrs.
J. M. Bulpitt and for bridge, Mrs.
Cloud, Mrs. Frank Finster, Cood
Adams and Fred Towser. Holders of high scores at each table were presented with decks of cards.
Chapman's orchestra played its usual good music for the dancers and refreshments were served late in the evening.

Announcements Sent
Of Recent Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Scott of 1204
East Fourth street, and several other Santa Ana friends, have received announcements of the wedding on Thursday, January 13, of Miss Beatrice B. Horn and Mastin
Bouchelle, both of Long Beach.

Miss Horn is well known in this city where until a year ago, she was employed by Mr. Scott in the Santa Ana Art Glass works. Mr.
Bouchelle is employed in the oil fields and they will make their home in Long Beach. Their marriage took place in this city with Justice Kenneth Morrison performing the ceremony.

CONTEST FOR SELECTION OF BEST NAME FOR SIGHT-SEEING TOUR ANNOUNCED BY C. OF C.

The Orange county sight-seeing tours, arranged by the county publicity department, and the Orange County Commercial Secretaries' association, with the co-operation of the Motor Transit company, will start early in February with a visit of 60 tourist bureau information girls to the county, George Raymer, secretary of the senior division of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, announced today, following a report of the secretaries' publicity committee to the association, yesterday, in the office of Dr. F. W. Slabough, county purchasing agent, president of the organization.

The buses for the opening excursion trip will be provided by the Motor Transit company. Special entertainment is being arranged. The chief purpose of the trip will be to acquaint the girls with the attractions of Orange county so that they will be in a better position to urge tourists to make the excursion juncts from Los Angeles.

In connection with the sightseeing trips, the secretaries voted to offer a prize of $10 to the person submitting the best name for the trip, the title not to exceed four words. A committee of commercial secretaries will decide the winner. No one is barred from entering as many titles as he or she may wish to submit.

In Santa Ana, the entries should be sent to "Orange County Tour Name Contest Editor," care Santa Ana Register. Each title should be submitted on a separate sheet, with the name and address of the contestant written plainly on the bottom of the paper. The contest will close at midnight, February 15. The winner will be announced shortly thereafter, Ray-mer said.

The excursion buses will be run twice a week until the demand is such that they will be run more often.

An announcer will accompany each bus. Applications for such positions should be sent to Ray B.
Leech, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce. If a girl can be secured who knows something of the history and romance of Orange county, Leech is in favor of hiring such an individual.

If an attractive, bobbed-haired, intelligent, energetic girl cannot be secured, the job will be thrown open to men, Leech declared. The Fullerton secretary asked that pictures of each girl applicant be sent with the letter of application.

Harbor Trips Planned
The trip over the county will start at 8:30 a. m. from Los Angeles, and before the visitors are returned there 123 miles will have been covered. The buses will come into Orange county by way of Long Beach and continue on the new state highway through Huntington Beach to Newport Beach and Bala. At the county harbor, a 40-minute trip over the harbor will be made. From the harbor the tourists will be taken to Laguna Beach, where a special Orange county products dinner will be served.

From Laguna Beach, the trip will lead to Santa Ana, Orange, Hewer park, Anaheim, Fullerton,
Placentia, Brea and La Habra, thence back to the starting point.
Folders, descriptive of the county, are to be distributed to each seat holder and information concerning the excursion is to be contained in the special full page and half page Orange county advertisements in the Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles Examiner and Long Beach Press-Telegram.

The dates for the county advertisements for January and February were announced as follows:
Examiner, January 21, February
4 and 18; Times, January 25,
February 8 and 22; Press-Telegram, January 23, February 6 and 20.
On the day following the first full page advertisement in the Times, 178 letters were received, in which requests were made for information concerning Orange county. General information concerning the county was sent to all inquirers by Dr. Slabough's office and the letters then were turned over to the commercial secretaries to be rotated until special information from all Orange county cities and towns had been sent to each letter writer.

Swearing Case

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 20.— Brought into court on a charge of swearing in his apartment, preferred by his landlady, Hugh O'Neill, said he wasn't swearing, but reciting poetry.
"What was the poem?" asked Judge Stadler.
"The Burial of Sir John Moore," O'Neill replied and then proceeded to recite several lines.
"Who wrote that poem?" the judge asked.
O'Neill didn't know.
"Excused," said the judge.

School Children in Danger

Many parents feel that schools today push children too hard. Certainly their growing bodies need strong powers of resistance.
Watch your child for depleted health and vitality, loss of flesh, failure to gain weight, fretfulness, lack of appetite for proper food, etc. These are warning signals. Get hold of him in time.

A short course of Cod Liver Treatment works wonders for most any run-down child. It's a great strength-giver and body-builder. And now instead of the old style fishy tasting oil, you can get at all drugists genuine McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound
Tablets, as easy to take as candy.
Thirty days' use must benefit your child or the druggist is authorized to time to start—Adv.

RUMP MEETING WILL 'HONOR' BAUMGARTNER

Men of every political faith are expected to gather tomorrow night in rump convention, at St. Ann's Inn, for celebration of the appointment of J. P. Baumgartner, editor of The Register, to the state highway commission.

The "round up" committee has issued invitations to scores of Orange county men to be present. In view of the success of previous rump conventions, held for the purposes of honoring county men who have received recognition by appointments to political and judicial positions, it is anticipated that regrets will not be sent by anyone fortunate enough to receive an invitation.

References to county officials also will feature the session of the rump convention, it is indicated by the invitation.

"We'll celebrate J. P.'s appointment," reads the invitation. "Also, since some more great victories of the common people have been thrust upon us, we will make this occasion one for condoning the election of certain county officials, whose desperate characters and general unfitness will be held up to public scorn. No slander will be barred—no secret longer hidden."

The convention will convene at 8:30 p. m., and disorder will follow immediately.

The committee in charge is composed of W. B. Williams, W. C.
Jerome, Dr. B. A. Cushman, James
Sleeper, E. B. Collier, J. M. Backs,
S. M. Reinhaus, T. B. Talbert, W.

BOARD URGES CENTRAL FAIR SITE PURCHASE

Without specifying any location, the board of directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce today passed resolutions to the board of supervisors recommending the purchase for the county fair, of a site centrally located in the county.

The resolutions followed a discussion on the purchase, by the county, of the 17 acres on which the fair equipment now is located and 45 acres adjoining on the north. F. L. Purinton, director on the fair board, and J. R. Hunt, manager, were present and Purinton suggested the adoption of a resolution urging the supervisors to purchase the two tracts.

Directors discussing the suggestion pointed out that three supervisors are opposed to the present site and took the position that chamber directors should not assume the position of telling the county solons what they should do.

It was conceded that the present site is ideal, from the standpoint of convenience to the public and publicity, but opinion was expressed that other conditions, with which the opposing supervisors were more familiar, might be the controlling factors in their attitude on the purchase.

This possibility was advanced as another reason why the chamber directors should not commit themselves to any particular location.

Purinton told the directors that a committee, of which he was a member, had been successful in procuring from the owners of the two tracts of lands a substantial reduction in the prices per acre quoted originally and expressed the belief that the supervisors should accept the offers without delay. He said that the price on the 17-acre tract had been reduced from $1850 an acre to approximately $1500 and on the 45 acres from $1800 to $1200.

Information was brought out indicating that possibility of damage by flood waters from the Mexican Ana river and the heavy cost of protection work probably were conditions that also influenced the supervisors opposing purchase of the tracts.

Other chambers of commerce organizations in the county, it was stated by Hunt, have adopted resolutions urging the board to buy the two tracts.

EDITORS GATHER IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—Newspaper publishers from the Mexican border to as far north as Fresno were preparing here today for the opening of the Southern California Editorial association's annual meeting tomorrow. The session will continue through Saturday.

"The newspaper and the judiciary," world's press congress for California in 1923, newspaper making up classified advertising, and circulation will be feature topics of the meetings.

President F. M. Keffer will open the first session tomorrow morning, at 11 o'clock. At that time he will deliver his annual address and committees will be appointed.

Technical aspects of newspaper publishing will be considered in Saturday's group of meetings, with the final session devoted to the election of officers.

Karl A. Bickel, president of the United Press associations was scheduled to arrive here this afternoon. He will address the editorial association at a banquet tomorrow night, given by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

NEW OLEO BATTLE LOOMS IN OFFING

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 20.—Oleomargarine, the word that evoked much oratory and columns of newspaper publicity both at the last California legislative session and during the state election campaign last fall, is expected to be a rallying cry again for those opposed to it and those legislation concerning oleomargarine and nut oil products is planned was made known when Assemblyman William P. Jost, of Hayward, Alameda county, announced that he was ready to introduce a bill sponsored by the California Dairy Council.

This new bill, however, will not contain the 2 cent per pound special tax that caused one of the bitterest fights of the 1925 session, but would prevent the use of yellow color in advertisements of nut oil products; provide that oleo and nut oil advertising state the actual contents of the products and provide that any violation of the oleomargarine law will be punishable by the revocation of the seller's license.

PLANE-MULE DEATHS

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—It appears to be much safer to fly in planes of orthodox horsepower than to get a ride in the air from mule power. Eight pilots lost their lives in commercial aviation last year, and 80 persons were killed to death by mules in Missouri, Captain H. G. Stevens reports to the American Society for Promotion of Aviation.

PERSONALITY PAGEANT CUPS TO BE PRESENTED BY SANTA ANA BANK AND MOVIE STUDIO

A. J. Crookshank has provided the First National bank trophy, a handsome loving cup, which, with the C. B. DeMille cup, will be presented to the lucky girls winning the titles "Miss Santa Ana" and "Miss 1927 of Orange County" during the Orange County Personality pageant, tonight, in the Yost Broadway theater.

The unusual facilities afforded by the big stage in the Broadway permit the presentation from the stage of the latest designs in distinctive motor car construction. The Packard will feature a new cabriolet; Lincoln, a new model sedan; Marmon, small 1927 model; Essex, coach; Star, sport. Auburn will present a distinctive model and Jordan will be represented by a model just arrived. Chrysler, Buick, Paige, Stutz, Chevrolet and Cadillac will have their most distinctive 1927 advances in motor car building in the twilight automobile parade, which will begin in Fullerton, continue through Anaheim and conclude in Santa Ana.

100 Girls in 100 Gowns
"One hundred girls in 100 gowns" will represent the many enterprises participating in the Personality pageant, which, in addition to importing the latest in automobile design, will present the newest importations and the garments suggesting fashion's latest decree. The Sample shop, the Mode, Greater Unique, Nash Outfitting, Marie Louise, Fein's millinery, Worthmore, in addition to presenting their own candidates for the Personality contest, will display their newest garments through the medium of 50 girls. Juanetta Mae, a newcomer, has designed a frock for "Miss Valencia" and Hill and Carden will present a girl featuring a masculine, formal evening costume. The Bouquet shop, Crystal Cleaners, John's Super service, Saddle Rock, Polinetta cafe, H. J. Lyle, Hawley's Sporting Goods and Radio, Exide battery, Owl cafe, Grand Central market, Main Service garage, R. N. Townsend, B. J. MacMullen, Paul shop, McCune Furniture company, Cope Electric, Schleuter's, Inc., Home cafe, Madam Coutant studio, Underwood Typewriter, R. C. Tiernan and Raitt's Sanitary dairy will present girls in the pageant.

The Radio Den and the A. G. Flag Printing company have arranged distinctive representations. The French American School of Costume Design has prepared an original creation.

Judges Are Announced
A distinctive program of exclusive talent will provide theatrical entertainment during the pageant. W. B. Williams, of the First National bank; William A. Murphy, of the Santa Ana hotel, and other prominent men will act as judges. The winners of previous pageants, held in Fullerton, Anaheim and Orana, will appear with their courts of six girls. The Southern Seas club, the Santa Ana hotel and St. Ann's Inn are represented by carefully selected candidates.

A motion picture was filmed by Army Armstrong this morning at St. Ann's Inn and on the campus of the high school, featuring the "100 girls in 100 gowns." An effort is being made to break all existing records for quick motion picture production and the Auburn car draws the attention of rushing the negative to the Horsley laboratory, in Hollywood, where special arrangements have been made for developing and printing and returning the finished picture to the Yost Broadway in time for exhibition tonight. A police escort has been arranged for the entire route and Auburn must establish a record for speed on the road and reliability to assure the success of the attempt.

DeMille Stars to Attend
Word just received from the C. B. DeMille studios, which are awarding a trophy to winner of the contest, assures the presence of one of its featured players. Dependent upon shooting conditions and production schedules, Anna May Wong, Norman Kerry and Mary Astor will appear and assist in the presentation of "Miss Santa Ana" and "Miss 1927 of Orange County." Miss Anaheim, accompanied by six girls already selected to represent her city; "Miss Fullerton" with six girls; "Miss Balboa," "Miss Westminister," "Miss Buena Park" and "Miss La Habra" complete the list of representatives.

A double quartet of violins, presented by Elwood Bear, of the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music; Charlotte Morgan, KNX blues singer, and a selection of ukulele specialties and dance numbers will add to the entertainment. "Mile Modiste," a feature selected because of its adaptability to the program, featuring Norman Kerry and Corinne Griffith, will be shown today and tonight only. Arrangements have been made for taking news weekly "shots" of the 100 girls on the stage.

N. Borden, 109 East Calville street, reported to police yesterday that a spare tire was stolen from his automobile last night, while the car was parked near the high school building.

Six men, found asleep or loitering near the Santa Fe railroad tracks, last night, were arrested on vagrancy charges by Officers Adams and Burns. They are held in the county jail. They were Frank Ruiz, 24; John Ruiz, 22; Harry Hunter, 23; Robert Wilson, 21; Anthony Redmond, 21; and Mike Holton, 22. They probably will be given a hearing before Judge J. F. Talbot today.

THEATER OPENED BY HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

It's a far cry from Hollywood to El Modena. Yet, two Santa Ana high school youths aspire to go in for the movies, not before the camera, but behind it.

Kermit Kling and Norman McClay held the premier opening, last night, of their motion picture house in El Modena. The name of the theater is the "El Modena Theater," spiced with a slight flip of the tongue to give it a Spanish flavor.

Tevis Westgate, of Santa Ana, was the master of ceremonies for the premier showing. The film, "Hurricane Hal," starring Jack Meehan, was screened. Shows of the wild west type are being booked for screening on Sundays and Wednesdays.

COMMUNITY SING ANNOUNCED BY Y.

Community singing, as a recreation and pleasure, will be featured at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday night of next week, Secretary Smedley announced today. Plans are under way to give the people of Santa Ana an opportunity to sing and hear good music.

According to the announcement, the Y. M. C. A. will provide a competent leader, together with a supply of popular and old-time favorite songs. All who care to spend an hour in singing and sociability are invited to enjoy it. A few special musical numbers will be provided as an added attraction.

The "sing" will be held in the main lobby, beginning at 7:30.

Metal Stolen by Youthful Thieves

Thieves, who, last night entered the Ulmer Pump and Machinery company, located on the Delhi road, southeast of Santa Ana, stole 200 pounds of scrap brass and two pigs of aluminum, according to a report filed today with the sheriff's office.

James Smith, deputy sheriff, who investigated, reported that the theft was committed by youths, who gained entrance to the factory building after cutting a screen door.

The brass was worth approximately $20, it was said.

Country Club Members Meet for Pleasant Bridge Party

Of the three score and more feminine bridge enthusiasts who yesterday afternoon enjoyed the monthly card party at Santa Ana Country club, over fifty motored down to the pleasant clubhouse for luncheon, served in the solarium preceding the afternoon play. Many guests were entertained by friendly hostesses, and in every respect the occasion resembled a delightful private party. Bonbons and punch were served during the intervals of playing.

Unusually attractive prizes had been chosen by the management and of these, Mrs. Morris Cain, holding high score, received a white gold vanity case. A pair of linen guest towels rewarded Mrs. M. A. Yarnell, while Mrs. Charles Swanson's low score brought her consolation gift of a hand-painted georgette handkerchief.

By a peculiar little twist of fortune's wheel, both second high and low scores went to luncheon guests of Mrs. Z. B. West Jr., who was entertaining quite a little party of friends.

The next general club event will be the anniversary dinner dance on the night of January 28 when members alone will be entertained. The function will be formal and dinner will be at 7 o'clock with dancing to follow at 8.

Friendly Evening Is Devoted to Playing Five Hundred

A group of merry young people last night enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel W. Barker who entertained at cards in their home, 119 Yorba street, Tustin.

Four tables were in readiness for the evening's playing, arranged amidst a profusion of pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern. Five hundred was the chosen diversion and the skill of Mrs. Paul Hall and Lynn Weatherbee won them each an attractive prize, a green crystal flower bowl for Mrs. Hall and a hammered copper cigarette box for Mr. Weatherbee.

Before the evening drew to a close, Mrs. Barker arranged the card tables with pretty linens, centering each with a complete of mint wafers and salted almonds, and with the assistance of her sister, Miss Marie Inman, served an appetizing fruit salad with hot chocolate and delicious little cookies.

Miss Inman's home is in Los Angeles and she is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Barker. Others enjoying the friendly evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Chandler of Fullerton and a group of Santa Ana guests, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Weatherbee, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Wright, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hall and Robert Austin.

Young Matron Returns Improved in Health

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Orlyn Robertson will be happy to hear that Mrs. Robertson has so far recovered her health as to return to her home, 111 Orange Drive, after an absence of nearly a year, part of which time was spent in hospitals and sanitariums. For the past six months Mrs. Robertson has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cram of Highland, recuperating from a serious operation and illness.

She is now well on the road to recovery and her friends anticipate for her a return to perfect health. Mrs. Robertson was formerly Miss Elizabeth Cram of Highlands, one of the most popular girls of the foothill cities. Since her marriage, her ill health has prevented her from taking any active part in social affairs in Santa Ana, but her charm will speedily make a place for her here.

The young people are members of Santa Ana Country club and Mr. Robertson is president of Kiwanis club, in whose social affairs his young wife will soon be able to take part.

Dan Cupid Is Kept Pleasantly Busy

Many young Santa Anans are choosing the first month of the new year for their nuptials, and no doubt Dan Cupid, seeing many victims thus early in his year's campaign, anticipates a remarkably busy and profitable twelve-month.

During the past few days licenses have been issued to Lynne H. Reid, a plasterer living out on Rural route 3, and Miss Clara O. J. Browner, and also to Lorin A. Moore, a mechanic with Harry D. Riley, and Miss Thelma O. Nichols. Yesterday, Alfred Barnett procured a license to wed Miss Lena Dierksen. All of the young people are from this city.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Sociality Meeting
The Young Ladies Sociality of St. Joseph's church met for the regular monthly meeting last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young, 1515 North Main street. Miss Margaret Young and her cousin, Miss Cleora Fine, being hostesses.

Eighteen members enjoyed the evening, the principal business transacted being the election of officers, which resulted in the selection of Miss Gretchen Lieberman as president; Miss Margaret Young, vice president; Miss Florence Urbine, secretary and Miss Rachel Smith, treasurer.

Heart's was the diversion for the evening, the prizes being awarded to Miss Anna Young and Miss Marie Rudolph. The hostesses served cheese sandwiches, salad, cake and coffee.

Old Friends Assemble For Pleasant Party In Besser Home

Gathering together a group of old friends for their first reunion in several years, Miss Minnie Besser, of 601 East Sixth street, entertained last night with a delightful card party.

For several years Miss Besser has spent her winters in Arizona thus missing many social events which she would otherwise have attended. It was to celebrate her winter in California that she called the group of friends together at her home.

The evening was spent in playing both bridge and 500. In bridge Miss Kate Benton scored high, Miss Pauline Parsons, second, and Miss Margaret Ore low. Mrs. Marshall Harnols held high score in 500 while Mrs. Horace Evans was low. Each received attractive gifts.

At a late hour dainty linens were substituted for card table covers and the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. William Besser, and Miss Jean Batterby served refreshments.

Guests were Mrs. Horace Evans, Mrs. Andrew Harvey, Mrs. Marshall Harnols, Mrs. Ruth Riley, Mrs. Clarence Skiles, Mrs. Gertrude Stanley, Mrs. Catherine Stinson, Mrs. A. H. T. Taylor, Miss Jean Batterby, Miss Kate Benton, Miss Effie Douglas, Miss Gladys Fifield, Miss Pauline Parsons, Miss Margaret Ore and Miss Harriet Wolaston.

Efficiency Club's Annual Dinner

An event of Friday night, much anticipated by all members of the Southern Counties Gas company and all who have ever experienced their hospitality, is the annual dinner given to the members by S. W. Todd, president of the Industrial Fuel and Supply company, in the classrooms of the local company.

These dinners have been featured for several years, and since the new gas company office was built at 207 West Second street, the attractive rooms of the Efficiency club have been an admirable setting for them.

Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock Friday evening, and a number of guests have been invited to join the county Efficiency club members in sharing the pleasures of the evening. A program of addresses and music will be given in the after-dinner hours.

Every step upward or backward in woman's progress is bound to be registered in her attire.

It was not by accident that the women of the Victorian age wore bustles, hoopskirts, false curls and stupid little gawags, while the women of ancient Greece went about in classic draperies and the women of the French court demanded silks and satins of the richest hues and textures.

Women were merely expressing themselves then as they always have and always will. And their most honest expressions will always be their unconscious, effortless ones.

The Victorian woman did not realize what she was shouting to the world with her attire. And in fact, it didn't shout until after that era had passed.

So today it is not an accident that woman registers in her clothes her independence of thought and action, her wit and her ability to think in a straight line.

Feminine Touch
After all, designers, costumers, fabric makers and milliners only create in answer to woman's designs, not from their own instinct or inspiration. The unseen hand that shapes the mode is a feminine hand that knows what it wants.

And the most popular French couturiers are those who most subtly understand women's subtle intellect. Take for instance, Vionnet, Chanel and Lanvin—all women, who have introduced into today's styles the intelligence without which there can be no real beauty.

What Vionnet and Chanel have contributed to beauty of line is inestimable. They have cleared up women's viewpoint sartorially. And Lanvin particularly has revealed how fine and ornamentation are not contradictory.

Illustrated today are three evening gowns of the sophisticated modern type, that are intelligent, beautiful and exceedingly logical. They pre-suppose a good figure, and a natural one. They make no attempt to disguise the natural lines or direct the emphasis. They are frank as well as charming. They are sure of themselves and quite unafraid.

They belong only on women who have these qualities themselves. The model which you view from the back is one of the new colored velvet evening frocks which comes in green panne velvet. Down the back a long drape which falls in straight uncomplicated lines from shoulder to ankle. On the right shoulder strap are green poppies in many shades.

Shadow lace in that deep, rich Chanel red forms the model with the butterfly wings. The pattern is outlined in gold sequins which gives the delightfully gold-flecked quality of a butterfly and makes the draperies quite logical and appropriate. Here is a decided challenge to the obvious and ordinary, and an overtone of friendliness to the individual type of woman.

Chanel is also the creator of the third model which has a sheath of brocaded chiffon shirred into fan shapes at the side to form a cascade skirt of even length. The scalloped shawl of the material, with its deep silk fringe is the striking note of the costume.

The three represent the modern woman's triumph over sentimentality and the mere externals of clothes. Claiming their complete disregard of all tricks and obvious vanities, they proclaim their independence and their conformity to true art in dress.

DISTURBANCES KEEP RUSSIAN REDS MUDDLED

RIGA, Jan. 20.—The significance of the reappearance of Zinoviev and Trotsky at the Communist international conference in defense of the views of the opposition within the Communist party becomes daily more and more apparent. It has quite canceled the decision of the party to "cease discussions at all costs," and an official anti-opposition campaign is being reluctantly resumed within the U. S. S. R.

Communist meetings that have been held at various works and factories in Leningrad have denounced Zinoviev and Trotsky for breaking their promises and revolting against the party's decision by reopening the struggle through the Communist International and rallying to themselves the opposition elements in the U. S. S. R. and other countries.

Soviet Workers Condemn

Disturbances
Resolutions were adopted calling on the Communist International resolutely to settle once for all these "disturbances of party unity." Similar meetings in Moscow, Rostoff, Kharkoff, Perm and other towns emphasized the instability of the recent truce.

The Soviet press declares the opposition leaders' declaration of repentance on October 16 has proved to be a mere scrap of paper. Trotsky's speech was subjected to considerable interruption and Bukharin violently assailed him for "continuing the squabble" that the party regarded as settled, and for attempting to gain adherents from the members of other Communist parties.

A profound impression has been made in Moscow by the official announcement that the OGPU (the Tcheka, or political police), shot fourteen "bandits" without trial.

Executions Without Trial Reported

Although it is generally believed that executions without trial continue in spite of the decree that authorizes them only when the safety of the state is endangered, it is unusual to make an official announcement. This is the first instance since the death of Dzerzhinsky, former head of the OGPU, the last having been in May, 1925, when the OGPU summarily shot three officials of the commissariat of finance for alleged speculation on the bourse. It is generally assumed in Moscow that the OGPU wishes to recover its psychological grip on the masses, which had weakened after Dzerzhinsky's death.

Many prominent Communists, however, disapprove of the publication of details of executions without trial, considering that the revival of open and wholesale terrorism such as was practiced in 1918-21 is impossible today. They condemn such procedure in Moscow, where there is every facility for quick trial, as likely to reflect weakness rather than strength.

Coast Record Set By White Collars

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—Breaking all local records for consecutive performances "White Collars," playing at the Egan theater, will close Saturday, after a run of three years.

"White Collars," with a cast of seven persons, when it closes will have compiled a record of 1407 consecutive performances. It started the remarkable run Jan. 24, 1924.

Nine performances of the comedy-drama were given each week. Only one other production in American stage history, "Able's Irish Rose," playing in New York, has beaten this record, so far as it is known.

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Jan. 20.—A collection of 18 letters written by Washington Irving was turned over to Yale university recently as a gift from the alumni. The letters date from 1828 to 1830, and make the Yale collection of Irvingiana one of the most valuable of its kind in the country.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer, if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "too good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.—Adv.

COUNCIL TAKES LEASE ON 11-ACRE SITE FOR CAMP GROUND AT FOREST HOME

Anticipating the time a few years hence when free camping sites in the San Bernardino mountains will be at a premium, the city council of Santa Ana today had completed negotiations with the forestry department of the federal government for a long-term lease on 11 acres of ground at Forest Home and will reserve it exclusively for residents of Santa Ana who desire to pass their summer vacations at the mountain resort.

A group of city officials returned yesterday from an inspection trip to the property for the purpose of developing plans that may make the camp site available by summer.

The tract is located one mile north of the business center of Forest Home and faces on the main highway, offering an ideal location, so far as access is concerned.

Negotiate for Water
Development of water is one of the first considerations and arrangements now are under way for procuring an ample supply of water from the city of Redlands, which has a 40-acre tract nearby and which is contemplating plans for development of water for its car wash site. Should negotiations with Redlands fail, the Santa Ana council will give consideration to other sources for supplying the tract with water.

The tract is in its natural wooded state and some work will be necessary to place it in condition for use by Santa Anans. Roads will have to be built through the tract and clearing work done.

It is estimated that Santa Anans own 80 per cent of the cabins at Forest Home, and members of the council point to this fact as evidence of the popularity of the resort with Santa Ana residents, and justification for decision by the council to provide free camp grounds for local people.

City Permit Necessary
Arrangements will be made requiring that Santa Ana residents who avail themselves of the sites get a permit from the city clerk. Presentation of the permit at the camp will be necessary for one to gain admission.

Councilman E. L. Purinton, C. H. Chapman, E. B. Collier and Stanley Goode, City Attorney Charles D. Swanner, Nat H. Neff, former city engineer, and Horace Fine, of The Register, formed the party which made the inspection. The group went to the mountain resort late Tuesday afternoon and remained over night at Chapman's cabin home.

Milwaukee Road Sale Confirmed

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Sale of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad to Kuhn, Loeb and company, of New York, has just been approved by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. The sale price was $140,000,000.

The railroad, forced into receivership more than a year ago, was sold on the auction block at Butte, Mont., several months ago.

It is one of the most extensive railroads operating in the north-west, operating from Chicago as far west as Seattle.

SAN DIEGO-HAWAII FLIGHT IS PLANNED

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 20.—A San Diego-to-Honolulu airplane flight, preceded by an elaborate aeronautical exposition here, will be sponsored by the chamber of commerce, the aviation committee of the chamber has decided.

Lee Schoenhair, former Rockwell field aviator, will attempt the 2200-mile trip some time between March 1 and 15. More than $60,000 has been raised by Schoenhair and his manager for construction of the giant plane. Work has been started on it by Anthony Fokker, at his factory at Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., Schoenhair said.

The San Diego Chamber of Commerce is planning the largest aeronautical exposition ever held on the Pacific coast during the two days prior to the flight.

IDEAS and Ideals

A. V. NAPIER

It appears natural that home seekers from the east should expect residential property in California to be higher in price than similar property in other states. It is undoubtedly worth more to live in California than elsewhere, but the impression that California property is high is erroneous. Improved residential property is above the average in price because the average California home is above the average in character and cost. Residential lots, however, are not held at higher prices in California than they are in other states. This fact is brought to light in a survey just completed by the real estate boards of various cities throughout the nation.

The highest average for residential lot prices in America is in Chicago. The survey covers all districts in the better known cities where property is restricted for a term of years to residential purposes. The average price per front foot in Chicago is $1500. Next highest in the list of home site prices comes Washington, D.C., in which the average is $1000 per front foot. Restricted building lots in Los Angeles are offered at the average front foot price of $300. Other prominent cities show the following averages: Cleveland, $350; Paterson, N. J., $320; Erie, $300; Reading, $300; Scranton, $300; Toledo, $300. The cheapest building lots in any large city in America, the survey shows, are in Kansas City, Mo., where the average price per front foot is $85.

The survey just completed has disclosed other highly interesting facts. It points out that residential property in Los Angeles and other Southern California cities has increased in value faster than in any other state. Going back as many years as an accurate record is available, the analysis shows that residential property values in the average California city have doubled in value every 11 years. The survey referred to deals with residential property only. The average business property in Southern California towns has undoubtedly made greater gain in valuation in the past 11 years than residential property.

Eastern people with money available, who heretofore have loaned it at six or seven per cent, are beginning to see that money can be made faster by actual purchase of property. The foundation of the transaction is the value of real estate in either case. The bonds or mortgages for which the money is loaned are secured by real estate. Men with funds are learning that money invested in well selected California real estate will return far more than six or seven per cent.

The main concern of the investor is in making the right selection. There is apparently no record of any permanent decrease in property values in any Southern California community. The general trend is upward, so long as the country as a whole is less than 50 per cent developed, there is no apparent reason why this condition should be otherwise in the present generation. But some cities and communities will show greater advances than the average, and investors with sufficient insight to select such places will no doubt have gratifying results.

$25,000 TO BE EXPENDED ON HEWES PLANT IMPROVEMENTS

Big El Modena Packing Plant Will Rank Among Most Modern in State

S. A. BUILDER IS GIVEN CONTRACT

Stamping Machine, Conveyor System to Be Installed; Work Started

Improvements which will greatly increase the capacity of the packing plant of the David Hewes Orange and Lemon association at El Modena were started today by Sam Heckart, Santa Ana contractor.

The work is being done jointly by the Southern Pacific company, owner of the buildings, and the association, which has a long time lease on the property. The cost is estimated at $25,000. According to D. Eymann Huff, president and general manager of the association, the additions and installations will enable the plant to care for 100 cars of oranges and between 75 and 100 cars of lemons each season over the present output.

Included in the improvements are a box conveyor system and a lemon grading and sorting system, both of which will add materially to the efficiency of the establishment. Mr. Huff stated. A large basement will be excavated and the boxes will be stored there and conveyed automatically as desired to the packing room above. The main room will be enlarged by 13 feet, making it 68 by 200 feet in size. A new roof, new lighting system and new orange graders are planned. A Sunkist stamping machine will be installed.

When completed the plant will rank among the most up-to-date in California and will permit the association to take in many new members, Mr. Huff said.

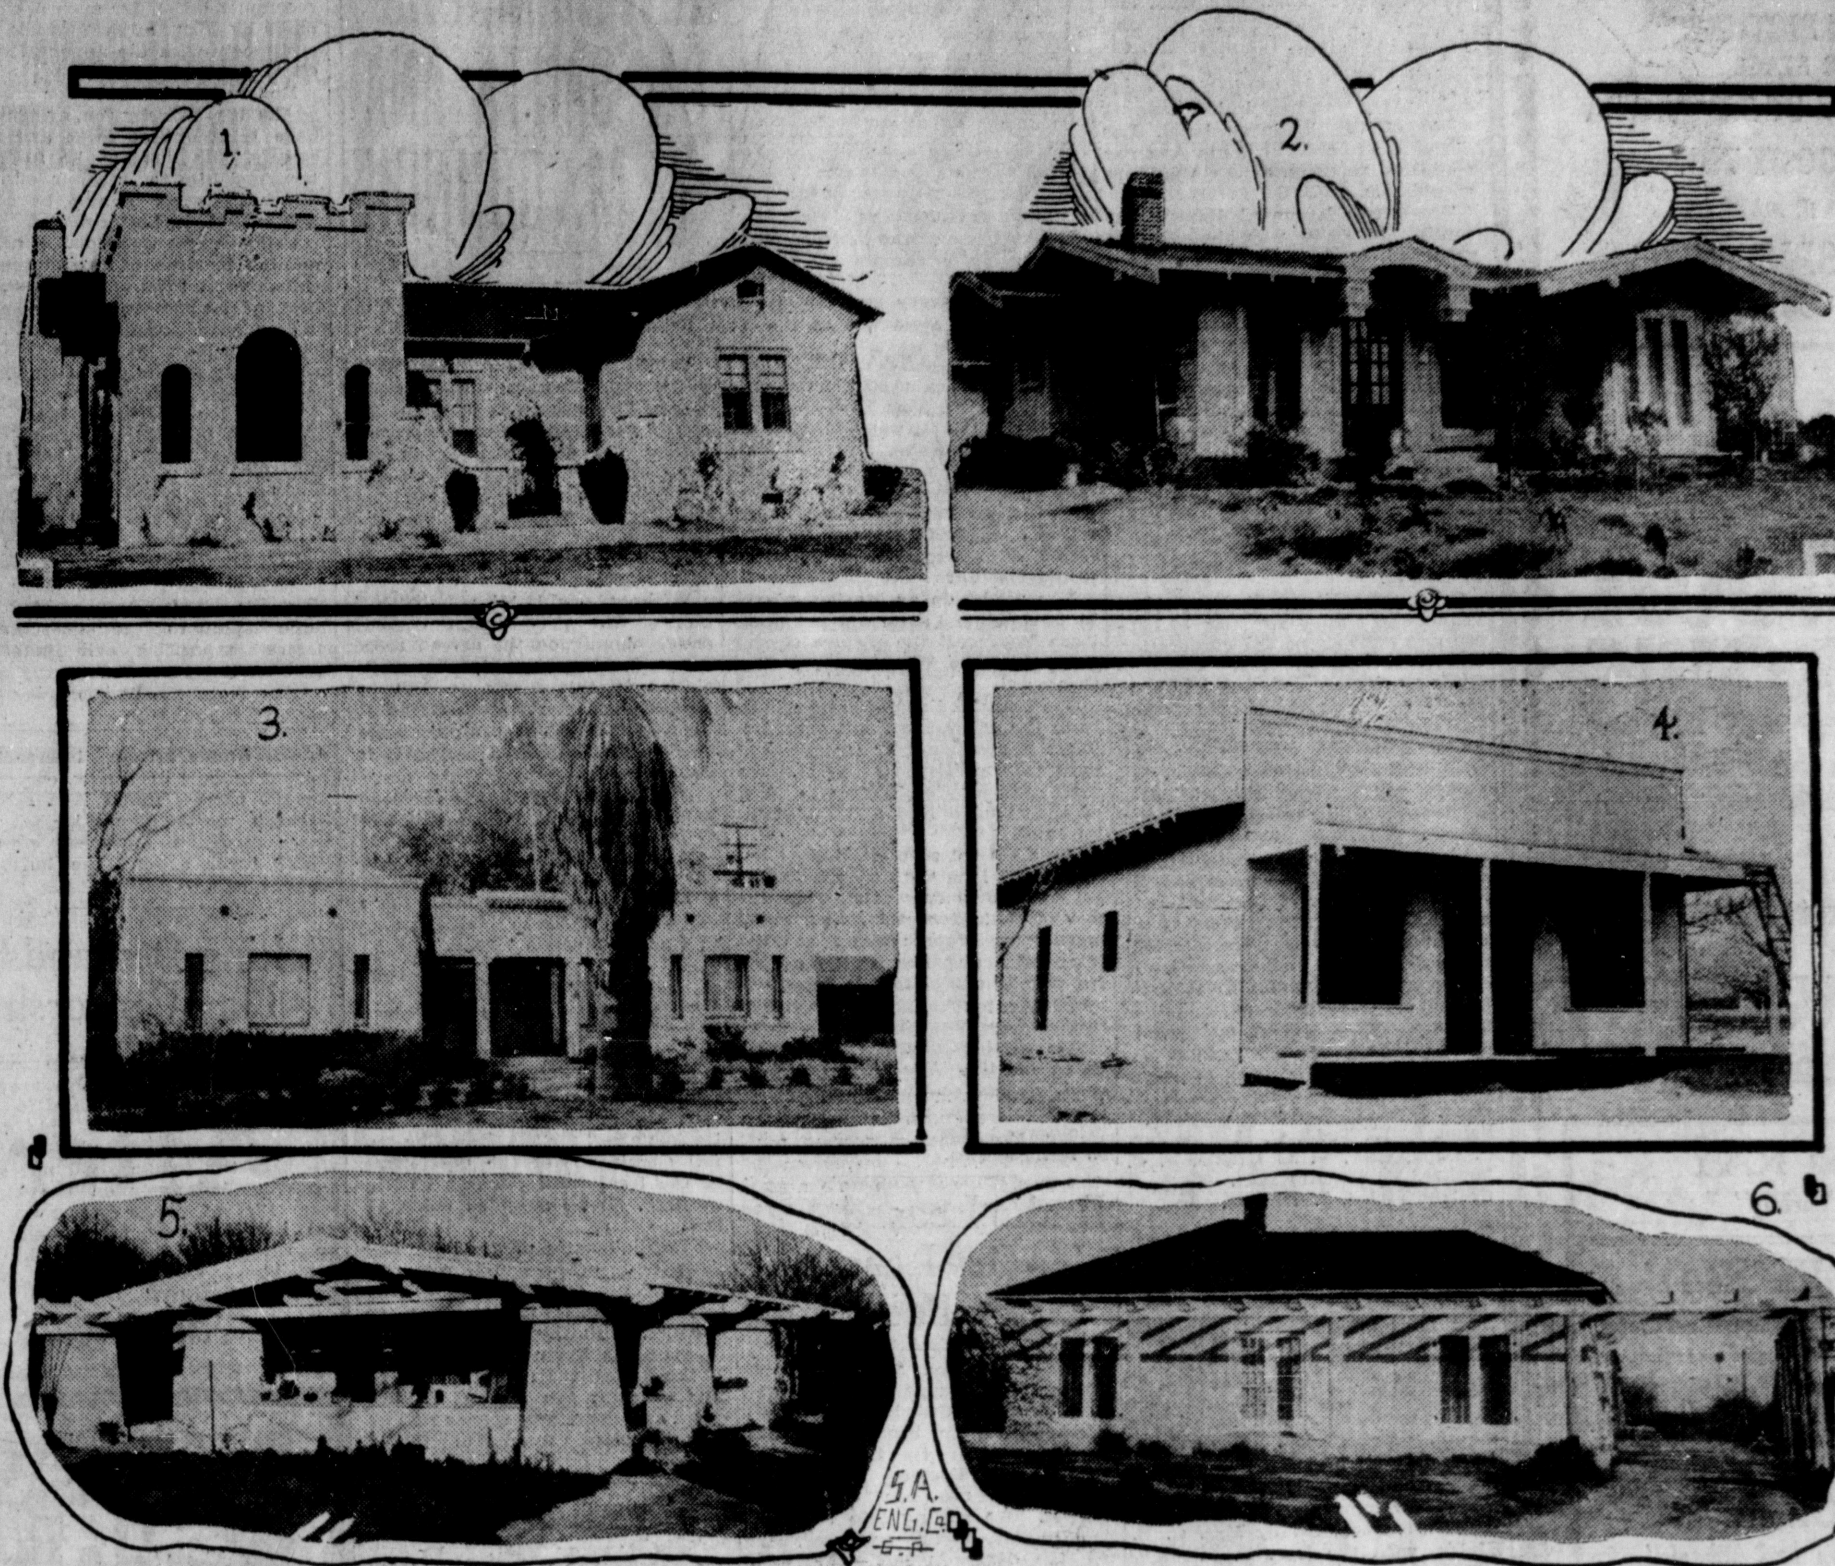

Joe Backus Buys Stanfield Grove

Jack Backus, 311 South Main street, has purchased the S. W. Stanfield five-acre orange grove northeast of Orange. It was announced today. The transaction was made through the J. P. Murphy real estate agency.

Mr. and Mrs. Backus will reside on the ranch property, with plans at this time contemplating their location on the property within the next six weeks. The ranch location is near that of Mrs. M. C. Hoyt, mother of Mrs. Backus.

$561,000 TO BE SPENT IN S. A. DISTRICT BY EDISON

"Five hundred and sixty-one thousand dollars will be spent by the Southern California Edison company for extensions and reinforcements of the electric distributing system in the Santa Ana district during 1927," District Manager W. L. Deimling announced today upon receipt of information from R. H. Ballard, executive vice president and general manager of the company, advising him that his recommendations for appropriation had been approved.

"In addition to this sum, which is to be spent for actual construction work in this district, Santa Ana's proportion of the general expenditure for generation and transmission equipment will amount to $1,479,000, making a total in excess of $2,000,000 to be spent by the Edison company to provide present and future service for our territory. This is approximately five per cent of the total construction budget of $42,881,000 to be expended by the company during 1927."

The Santa Ana district includes Santa Ana, Orange, Tustin, Garden Grove, El Modena, Villa Park and the intervening territory. The business and population in this district shows a substantial increase, which justified this generous appropriation to keep pace with the additions which the company always makes to provide for present and future demands for service. Included in the annual budget is "Our program for local system reinforcement for the year includes the reinforcement requirements at the Fairview substation and the construction of three new substations to be known as Irvine, Orange and Washington substations. In addition to the work on these substations, many of the main feeder lines will be enlarged and a large number of extensions where needed. "This has been a very notable year in the history of the Southern California Edison company. In July of this year, a new 30,000 horse power unit was completed at the Long Beach steam plant which raised the total capacity at that time to 287,600 horsepower. Announcement has just been made that work on a new 125,000 horse power unit is to begin at once, and similar units to be added to this plant until it will eventually have a capacity in excess of one and one-quarter million horsepower."

"The purchasers, who have operated a large retail grocery business in Pasadena for some time, will take possession around February 1, when the deal is out of escrow. Mr. Dungan has several other groves to which he will give his attention. A large ranch house was included in the transaction.

RUM IN CORNERSTONE
FLORENCE, Kas., Jan. 20.—When the old Florence hotel, built 50 years ago, was razed recently, there was much speculation among the residents as to what would be found in the cornerstone. ORANA CORNER BRINGS $20,000

W. A. West, West Seventeenth street, walnut and orange grover, has purchased the southeast corner of Main street and Chapman street, Orana. It was revealed today by Charles Aubrey, of the real estate firm of Aubrey and Salisbury, agents in the transaction. The consideration was $20,000.

An oil station, business house and residence are located on the property and it is West's plan to make some improvements that will enhance the property as a business location.

The property has a frontage of 154 feet on Main street and 195 on Chapman street. Commenting today on his investment West expressed the opinion that within a few years there will be some good business house developments in the immediate vicinity of the junction of two of the most heavily travelled highways in the county.

20-ACRE GROVE BRINGS $70,000

Paying $70,000, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dunbar, of Pasadena, have acquired the 20-acre Valencia grove of William Dungan and located at Ocean and New Hope streets, Garden Grove. It was announced today by the Huscroft and Lewis Realty company, Orange.

The trees on the property are 15 years old, the grove being considered one of the best in Orange county.

The purchasers, who have operated a large retail grocery business in Pasadena for some time, will take possession around February 1, when the deal is out of escrow. Mr. Dungan has several other groves to which he will give his attention. A large ranch house was included in the transaction.

MOTHERS, DO THIS—
When the children cough, rub Musterole on their throats and chests. No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then's when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt relief. As first aid, Musterole is excellent. Keep a jar ready for instant use. It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, vaccination, hives, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frost-bitten feet and colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia). OIL REFINERY AT NEWPORT BEACH WILL BE REBUILT

The plant of the Orange County Refining company, which was destroyed by fire last Saturday, will be reconstructed in the near future, it was announced today by Ray Thomas, president of the company. It is expected that building operations will start within 60 days. The new plant will be larger and have a greater capacity than the plant which was destroyed, according to Thomas. The plant was turning out roofing and road material at the rate of about 1000 tons per month. It is expected that the new plant will have a capacity of 1500 tons per month. The structure will be erected on the site of the old plant. It will cover approximately two acres and will cost about $75,000, Thomas said. The loss was covered by insurance. As soon as insurance matters are adjusted, the building work will start, Thomas said. Two oil derricks which were destroyed at the same time are to be rebuilt. The company has been one of the most successful in the Newport Beach district.

BUILDERS' QUERIES ANSWERED

By Southern California Chapter, Associated General Contractors of America

Q—I have a one-story and basement bungalow that was built three years ago. After a moderately heavy rain, the water seeps into the basement. How can this condition be remedied?

A. In all probability the exterior basement walls were not covered with waterproof cement plaster and a drain pipe was not placed entirely around the outside of the footings and connected to a suitable outlet. To remedy this condition and to positively assure a dry basement it is advisable to excavate the outside of the basement walls of your house down to the bottom of the footings, then place a concrete drain tile entirely around the house. This drain should be laid without sealing the joints. Then the excavation above the tile should be filled, to within a foot of the grade line, with gravel, cinders or some other like material to provide a fill that will allow water to seep through quickly. When excavating is completed and before placing the drain tile, it is advisable to have the exterior walls plastered with a waterproofing cement. If this suggestion is followed you will probably not be bothered with the water.

Q. How much material will be required to lay 1935 square feet of cement floor four-inches thick? A contractor has agreed to do the work and furnish all labor and material for $250. Shall I accept his proposal?

A. The contractor made you a good offer. Using a 1:2 1/2:4 mix for the floor base, which should be three and one-half inches thick, you will need 118 sacks of cement, 11 cubic yards of sand and 15 cubic yards of rock or gravel; and for the top coat, which should be at least one-half inch thick, you will need, if using a 1:2 mix, 39 sacks of cement and two and three-quarters yards of sand.

Q. Is it advisable to sell a piece of property without requiring a down payment?

A. It is entirely a matter of opinion as to whether a down payment should or should not be made. By making a down payment the principal is reduced immediately and the interest will also be less. From the purchaser's viewpoint, it is advisable to make a large down payment and the monthly payments should be at least one per cent of the amount to be paid off in monthly payments.

Q. What type of floor would you suggest for a kitchen? I thought of using hardwood flooring and painting it with hot linseed oil.

A. You will be wasting money if you use hardwood flooring. It is advisable to use first grade Oregon pine flooring and then cover the flooring with a good grade of linoleum. This plan will be less expensive and more serviceable.

KISS BETRAYS BURGLAR
LONDON, Jan. 20.—William Mahoney was betrayed by a kiss. It will cost him just 19 years' hard labor. William, pursuing the career of a burglar, invaded the chamber of a servant girl, kissed her and asked her where the family kept the valuables. When he was caught the girl identified him.

SUBDIVIDERS NOT WANTED BY CITIZENS OF BERRYDALE

Land Formerly Given Over To Berries Now Devoted To Valencia Culture

PROPERTY VALUES REVEAL INCREASE

Paved, Tree-Lined Roads on Program of Community Development Association

A promotion project without a real estate agent is something new, like a fish away from water, but that is the case at Berrydale, farming section midway between Santa Ana and Garden Grove.

Real estate agents are trespassers there.

The unique program of improving the section by widening and paving the roads, lining the drives with trees and other like plans is being undertaken by the land owners. A meeting of the property holders is to be called in about two weeks to act on the proposal, according to L. O. Culp, one of the land owners.

Because of the location of Berrydale between Santa Ana and Garden Grove, the steps toward making it an attractive section will interest many sight-seers, visiting Orange county's citrus farms.

In the early days, the district was noted for its berry cultivation. From that it received its name. There are about 500 acres, now almost entirely planted to citrus orchards and walnut groves, with some persimmon trees.

There is no land for sale for subdividing. Property that was bought for $40 an acre now is valued as high as $3000 an acre and is not for sale at that figure.

Silt from overflow waters of the Santa Ana river in past years enriched the soil. The danger still exists of an overflow from the river and for that reason the residents of the section are boosters for the water conservation project in the Prado dam.

The original grants for the section were from the Bolsa Chica holdings.

When settlers came in, Spanish heirs sued the title forces them to give up their holdings. When the Spanish heirs won, many of the settlers left. One of the men to remain and buy land was James H. Belt and today Miss Bertha Belt still has the property her father secured.

Other early settlers were Fred Merrill and D. W. McDannald, once connected with the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. The name Berrydale was first applied to the district by McDannald. The improvement organization now being formed is to be known as the Berrydale Development association. The school children attend the Garden Grove grammar school and high school.

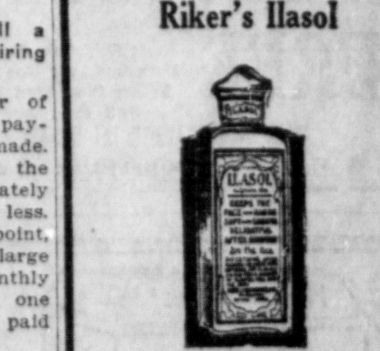

The cultivation of citrus orchards has brought great prosperity to the section. Many beautiful homes have been erected. Modern houses are replacing old homes. One of the new projects is the building of a paint and china store by Joe Stutch, formerly of Los Angeles.

GAS COMPANY'S HEAD HOST AT ANNUAL DINNER

President and General Manager Ferdinand R. Bain, of the Southern Counties Gas company, which distributes gas in Santa Ana and to more than 70 other communities in Southern California, was host, last night, at his fifteenth annual dinner to more than 100 directors, officers, guests and employees of the organization. The annual gas company party was held in the banquet room of the Biltmore hotel, Los Angeles, and several Santa Ana gas company representatives were in attendance.

The fifteenth annual dinner, according to Bain, was the largest gathering in the history of his organization. The original banquet was given in 1912, to four executives of the organization, and these men being present last night. They were Vice President and Manager F. S. Wade, Secretary W. S. McFarland, General Agent F. H. Bivens and Chief Engineer M. R. Thompson.

It was pointed out last night that the company added 7500 new consumers during the closing year, bringing the corporation's total number of meters, on Dec. 31, 1926, to 111,545.

Gross expenditures during the last year totaled approximately $1,750,000 and officials of the corporation estimated that the 1927 expenditures for betterments and improvements to the system would reach the same figure. One important project now under way is that of extending the company's transmission system south from Newport Beach, a distance of nine miles, to Laguna Beach. This improvement, now under way, will cost $135,000 and will make natural gas service available to the public of Laguna Beach early in February. Several new high pressure gas holders were completed in Santa Ana and Orange early last year, at a cost of $75,000. More than $161,000 went into new gas mains ahead of paving on various parts of the company's system.

Among Orange county persons present at the meeting were L. A. West, Judge H. G. Ames, W. B. Williams, S. W. Todd, C. E. Rutledge, F. E. Epperly, V. L. Hinkle, F. C. Merker, E. T. Rowland, William Umland and J. J. Wagers.

COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, Jan. 20.—The New England dinner served under the auspices of the Friday Afternoon club last Friday evening at the clubhouse was one of the happy community affairs of the month. Mrs. E. N. Gage was chairman in charge of the dinner arrangements. Following the dinner, a community sing of old-fashioned songs, led by Mrs. C. E. Kinley, with the Rev. L. R. Bayard at the piano, promoted a spirit of friendliness. Mrs. C. E. Kinley and daughter, Mrs. Homer Mellett sang several numbers. The Rev. L. R. Bayard accompanied at the piano.

Tuesday, a card party was held at the clubhouse. Mrs. Wm. Rochester and Mrs. Irving Myers of the Friday Afternoon club were hostesses. Ten tables were in play. Games and "500" were the popular features. Miss Alice C. Plummer, received the first prize given to the women and J. B. Horton, of Santa Ana, the men's first prize, in bridge. Mrs. R. A. Wellington and E. A. Randall were the two best "500" players.

Mrs. R. G. Roberts, president of the Friday Afternoon club, sent cards to the 16 new members of the Friday Afternoon club, asking them to spend the afternoon at her home on January 26. Officers of the club will conduct a reception committee. All members of the club are invited to call during the afternoon to become better acquainted with the new members.

The January meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the community church was held at the church Tuesday. Mrs. W. W. Carothers had charge of "The Study of the Master Personality." Mrs. E. V. Coyner brought the message of "Moslem Women." Mrs. E. A. Randall spoke on "Native Measures of Reform."

A committee was appointed to form boundary lines for the sectional work outlined. The members are Mesdames E. A. Spaulding, E. L. Bennett, W. B. Mellett and N. O. Mellett.

Mrs. F. Long, president of the Missionary society, presided during the afternoon session. Reports were given by group leaders. Prayer day, March 4, the societies of Newport and Balboa will be invited to join the Mesa group. Plans are being made for a special speaker for the February meeting.

The Costa Mesa P. T. A. will hold a unique party at the home of Mrs. R. Vele Wednesday afternoon. All arrangements are in charge of Mrs. P. M. Thompson, chairman of the mutual benefit department of the local P. T. A. Admission will be a bundle of clothes and a photo, not too recent. The latter will be returned.

Mrs. L. R. Daughenbaugh entertained at an afternoon bridge party Tuesday. Guests included Mesdames G. Merrick, G. Fair, E. E. Plinn, J. Wallis, E. N. Gage, Butler, R. G. Roberts, C. G. Huston, William Bremer, I. Meyer, R. A. Wellington and Miss Alice C. Plummer, of Costa Mesa; Mrs. C. J. Ebesold, of Santa Ana; Mrs. J. Davis, of Boston, Mass.; Mrs. T. Lamb, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Cash, of Balboa, and Mrs. John Rustad, of Kindred, North Dakota.

WEST COAST WALKER

If you were a pretty mannequin in an exclusive New York shop and you felt that you were growing old without progressing and you were getting into a rut, and you didn't care for the type of young men that proposed to you and your bosom friend suggested a scheme to get a rich and handsome husband, what would you do?

You might do as Marion, played by Jacqueline Logan did in "Footloose Widows," the picture closing tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater.

She consented somewhat dubiously to the scheme without considering the possible consequences, and departed for Florida with Flo in hopes of ennobling a rich and handsome husband.

The girls got a splendid start but it was not long until they began to get their own feet tangled in the web of their deception, with enormously humorous results. What came of it and how they emerged from their difficulties is most interestingly presented in this adaptation of the Beatrice Burton novel.

The motion pictures that were taken on the West Coast-Walker theater stage and on the streets of Santa Ana two weeks ago by the "Hollywood Movie Makers" are also being shown.

4 BUTTONS MAY BE PLACED ON INTERSECTIONS

Installation of four traffic buttons on each major intersection in the downtown district may be ordered by the street department within the next few days, if the recommendation for such a change, made by City Marshal Claude Rogers, meets with the approval of the city council.

Rogers said that for several weeks the four-button system had been tried out at First and Main streets. Its success, he said, determined him to recommend that other intersections also be equipped with four buttons.

Police were worried for several months because of the number of collisions at First and Main streets. Most of the accidents were of minor nature, but some damage was done in each of them, so Rogers attempted to remedy the condition by using the new system.

Since four buttons have been placed at the intersection no accidents have been reported there, Rogers said today.

A button was placed in the middle of each of the four streets at the entrance to the intersection and the button in the center of the intersection was removed. This system allowed persons making left hand turns to "cut the center" somewhat, but it has eliminated accidents, Rogers said.

"Slow" signs have been placed on each of the streets. The old system, with one button in the center of the intersection, tended to slow up traffic, especially on the narrow Santa Ana streets, because motorists would have to come almost to complete stop to make turns around the buttons," Rogers said.

A REAL AUTHORITY

Perhaps no one man in baseball is better fitted to select an all-time team than Connie Mack. He can go back over a period of 40 years as player and manager without greatly taxing his memory.

One day last summer, while discussing the relative merits of certain star players, I asked him to name for me the players he regarded as outstanding at their positions over the last 40 years.

It didn't take him long to express himself. I am inclined to think that at various times in his career he must have given such a question much consideration.

Here are his selections, and, by the way, they make a pretty fair ball club. To that I am sure you will agree.

MACK'S ALL-TIME TEAM

He named Buck Ewing as his catcher, Christy Mathewson as his right-handed pitcher and Rube Waddell as his southpaw. Mack qualified the Waddell selection thusly:

"Waddell easily was the best left hander of all time as far as natural ability went, and likewise was a consistent winner. Yet, between Plank and Waddell, I would have picked Eddie for team value.

"Chase was a better fielder than Sisler, but for all-round value I would name Sisler as my first baseman."

For shortstop and third base Mack goes back to the old-timers, naming Hans Wagner as best at short and Jimmy Collins as the premier at the difficult corner.

"Give me Eddie Collins for second base; there is a great player," said Mack.

It is rather interesting that Connie recently acquired Collins after the White Sox had cut loose from him.

OVERLOOKS BABE RUTH

As his outfielder Mack named Fred Clarke in left field, Tris Speaker in center and Ty Cobb in right field. Here are his reasons:

"Clarke was a marvel at playing the batters. Speaker covers more ground than any outfielder in the history of the game. All things considered, Cobb is in a class by himself."

Admirers of Babe Ruth are certain to give Mack an argument in naming Clarke in preference to the Bambino.

There is no doubt about Ruth being one of the greatest outfielders of all time. Were it not for his remarkable slugging ability the experts would be writing columns of praise about his fielding, for he is a wonder for a big man.

However, I am willing to ride along with Connie's judgment and refuse to take any exceptions. Over a period of 21 years I have found him wondrous wise as to baseball.

'Y' Volleyball
Team Will Play
Pomona Tonight

Coach R. R. Russick will take his strong Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. volleyball team to Pomona for a league match tomorrow night in the third round of the divisional championship of Southern California.

Players who probably will start are Captain Max Severance, Dr. J. M. Bulpitt, Bill Taylor, Kemper Taylor, Harold Smith and Ray Miles. Warren Fletcher and Lyle Forman will be substitutes.

Santa Ana is even with San Diego at the top of the league. In the two series played this season the locals have won nine games and lost one.

AMERICAN LEAGUE TO REMOVE JOHNSON

MINUTE MOVIES

(All rights protected by The George Matthew Adams Service—Trade Marks Registered U. S. Patent Office)

By ED. WHEELAN

FERY HEAD OF
JUNIOR CIRCUIT
TO LOSE PLACE

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, at a salary of $45,000 a year, will be removed unceremoniously from office next week when the club owners of his circuit meet in Chicago to referee a bout between Johnson and Commissioner K. M. Landis.

While Chicago has been the key point for the exposure of all the recent baseball scandals, the plans for the muzzling of the vociferous American league president have been discussed and decided on in New York.

Up to a certain point the National league felt reasonably happy that all the scandal talk involved only the American league but when Johnson, with his heated attack on the commissioner, incidentally cast suspicion on a world series between the New York Giants and the New York Yankees, the National league owners went to the drawer for their guns.

While the National league owners have no fear that the magnates of the younger league will not support the commissioner, they will force the hand of the American league owners if Johnson is not requested to resign.

It was pointed out today that the peculiar circumstances of the case would not permit the commissioner, as he did two years ago, to walk into an executive session, toss down his contract and tell the meeting that his commission could be revoked.

When this happened two years ago the club owners of the two leagues were in joint session but at the meeting in Chicago next week only the American league owners will be in the audience and the American league, according to law, could not accept the resignation of the commissioner without the assent of the eight National league votes.

If by any chance, and it's a 10 to 1 bet against that, the American league should get a vote of six to two against the commissioner, the National league could force a joint meeting and Colonel Ruppert of the Yankees and Charley Comiskey of the White Sox will vote with the eight National league clubs in support of Landis.

It was learned today that two other club owners of the American league had called Johnson on the telephone and warned him to maintain a discreet silence under the threat of the loss of his job.

GOLFING TOURIST

ABE MITCHELL

Determined to take the measure of the leading American professionals, Abe Mitchell, famous British pro golfer, is coming to the United States on a tour.

The Santa Ana Country club golf team went down to defeat against yesterday at the hands of the Victoria Golf club on the local course, the home team winning only two of eight matches. Last week he Santa Ana team lost all eight matches at Hacienda.

J. K. McDonald and Joe Parsons of Santa Ana won their matches as did George Parker and N. J. Warner.

Ed Holmes Jr., apired with M. B. Lacy, played a tight battle with J. M. Read and E. K. Fleming, carrying the visiting stars to the twenty-first hole before losing.

Following are the scores:

J. M. Read and E. K. Fleming (Victoria) beat M. B. Lacy and E. D. Holmes Jr. (S. A.) 1 up in 21 holes; R. D. Skelly and H. G. Pattee (Victoria) defeated Hugh Shields and Hugh Smith (S. A.) 1 up; F. G. Kattell and G. E. Dol (Victoria) defeated C. H. Way and M. W. Clark (S. A.) 5 and 4; J. K. McDonald and J. F. Parsons (S. A.) defeated B. H. Patterson and J. W. Shrimp (Victoria) 1 up; L. Dilant and R. M. Irving (Victoria) defeated M. A. Patton and M. D. Clark (S. A.) 1 up; G. A. Parker and N. J. Warner (S. A.) defeated K. Walker and L. B. Mathis (Victoria) 4 and 3; E. T. Tevelyn and A. T. Jergins (Victoria) beat Norman Hoyle and Lew H. Wallace (S. A.) 6 and 5.

Clark Confident Of Win Tomorrow

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Fight fans of England and Scotland, where Elky Clark, European fly-weight champion, is regarded as the one fighter who may demolish traditional American ring supremacy, have received vocal assurance that Clark will triumph over Fidel La Barba, world champion, tomorrow night.

Despite the confidence of Clark and his manager, La Barba still is regarded as a 2 to 1 favorite to retain his title.

Come and Hear Kolster Radio

We indulge in no claims, no superlative statements. We say "come and hear a Kolster radio, or let us give you a demonstration at home if you prefer."

Kolster appeals to the eye, but its main appeal is to the ear. That is why Kolster radio has become known as the "musical" radio. It is preferred by famous orchestral conductors, singers, composers and musicians.

SOCK! DUNDEE GETS REVENGE

Joe Dundee, Baltimore welterweight, got vengeance in Madison Square Garden, New York, when he won the decision in a ten-round bout with Eddie Roberts, who had knocked him out just a month previously on the Pacific Coast. This crackjack action shot shows Roberts, his back to the ropes, taking to the jaw the clean jab from Dundee's left which floored him in the fourth round.

SANTA ANA Y. M. C. A. CAGERS CRUSH REDLANDS, 56-20, IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA LOOP

Amassing a grand total of 56 to 20 points, the Santa Ana Y.M.C.A. basketball team defeated the Redlands "Y" quintette by the largest score that has been meted out in the Southern California league this winter when the rival squads clashed on the Santa Ana "Y" gymnasium floor last night.

A newcomer, Mearl Youel, captain of the undefeated Santa Ana high school Class C team last year, was largely responsible for the massacre. He scored a total of 21 points.

The Redlands players were mercilessly crushed by the fast Santa Ana squad, coached by R. R. Russick, physical director. Not only the regular first team, but also a complete second squad sent in by Russick outscored the visitors.

The game was the first in which Youel has played for the Santa Anans and with him on the team Russick is confident that no five in the league can defeat Santa Ana. Youel and Bennett form a strong combination of forwards, towering "Andy" Anderson is an experienced center, and Lutz and Vance are defensive guards of ability.

The lineup: Santa Ana (56) (20) Redlands Youel (21).....F..... (8) Hucks Bennett (12).....F..... (1) Crazen Anderson (12).....C..... (10) Guen Lutz (2).....G..... (1) Satt Vance.....G..... Gilmore Substitutions: Santa Ana—White for Youel; Hurd (2) for Bennett; Brunkill (7) for Anderson; Marks for Lutz; Hussie for Marks; Bove for Vance. Redlands—Benight for Gilmore.

The American Kennel club listed more dogs last year than ever before in its forty-one years of existence. Nearly 60,000 new animals were taken into the records, showing an increase of 5000 over the year 1925.

Johnny Weissmuller, the Chicago swimming wonder, has broken more world's records than any other performer in aquatic history. His latest achievement and one of the most remarkable of all was the lowering of the record for the 100-yard swim to 49 4-5 seconds.

Almost blind, his face lined by the strokes of poverty, Langford entered the Walker Athletic club last night and received the cheers of a jammed house. It was "benefit night" and the boys had turned out in force.

Fans Donate $500 To Sam Langford

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Sam Langford, negro idol in the days when fight fans knew him as the Boston "Tar Baby", today was richer by $500 and the knowledge that his friends have remembered him.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

2 NEW ROADS FOR LA HABRA ARE PROMISED

LA HABRA, Jan. 20.—Announcement that two roads of great importance to La Habra probably will be opened in the near future was made at the membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, J. G. Launer, chairman of the road committee, stated that assurances had been received from the La Habra Heights company that it was ready to co-operate in the opening of North Hiatt street, which will give a direct route into La Habra from the Heights, instead of the round-about way necessary at present. He further stated that Supervisor Schumacher had been informed of the situation and had stated that the county would get busy at once. All the property owners from the state highway to the county line, with one exception, have agreed to give the right-of-way and deeds will be prepared at once, while condemnation proceedings will be started by the county for the one piece on which this is necessary. Mr. Launer also reported that those who had been working on the opening of South Walnut street to Ocean avenue had arranged for all rights-of-way except one strip where a matter of title is involved, and it is believed that this can be cleared up soon. The street lies half in the city and half in the county, and the county has agreed to do its share of the work when the time comes. The street is badly needed as an outlet for the southwest section.

A resolution was adopted urging the merchants to co-operate with the city authorities in an effort to keep the streets clean. The business section is a matter of great importance to the city, and the committee pointed out that the city is trying to keep Central avenue clean, but that merchants make the task difficult by sweeping trash of their stores on to the street. If this practice can be broken up, it was said, the city can have better success in its efforts.

YORBA LINDA

YORBA LINDA, Jan. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parks, of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, who have been the house guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rowe, left for Long Beach Tuesday.

Mrs. E. R. Walker was hostess on Thursday afternoon to the garden club, organized recently. Those present at the luncheon were Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Curtis Morris, Mrs. J. W. Hargrave, Mrs. A. Logsdon, Mrs. George T. Kellogg, Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Homer May, Mrs. Della Miller, of Fullerton, and the hostess, Mrs. E. R. Walker.

Mrs. Lloyd Van Buren and daughter and mother, Mrs. Alice Moore, moved to Long Beach Saturday to be near Mr. Van Buren's work.

A. E. Taylor left Tuesday for a week's visit with D. Reed at Santa Margarita.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon King, of Shaw streets, were hosts on Tuesday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Covington and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Garner. Five hundred was enjoyed until a late hour, Mr. King getting high score prize and Mrs. Garner low.

Miss Beulah Jones spent the week-end with friends in Long Beach.

Tree conservation chairman are requested to attend a picnic lunch at Orange county park on Saturday. Several topics of interest are to be brought before the meeting. Plans for co-operating with the farm bureau on tree conservation day will be presented.

P. E. O. MEMBERS MEET

ORANGE, Jan. 20.—Orange P. E. O. members met at the home of Mrs. Jack Landale in Anaheim yesterday for the semi-monthly meeting. An appropriate program commemorating Founder's day was put on by the officers of the club. Following the program light refreshments were served by the hostess.

Swim Entrant In Comedy At Newport

BALBOA, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Martha Stager, one of the two women who remained in the icy waters of the Catalina channel for nearly 20 hours and who was awarded $2500 for the feat by William Wrigley, was busy at Newport today.

Mrs. Stager is not practicing for another try at the Catalina channel. She is working in a Mack Sennett film, a take-off on the Catalina island swim.

NOTED OIL MAN ORANGE VISITOR

ORANGE, Jan. 20.—Frank B. Ranger, Texas oil man, was a guest of Ray Wallace yesterday. Ranger, who developed the town of Ranger, Texas, following the oil drilling there, is stopping in Los Angeles while supervising several oil projects in California. He is interested in fields at Signal Hill and Huntington Beach. He stopped to visit Wallace who is interested with him in oil projects in the Texas panhandle and in Oklahoma, while on a trip to Atwood to enter a bid on a community oil lease.

Ranger has conducted tests for oil in seven different western states besides actually drilling for and procuring oil in the Texas district at Ranger and in Oklahoma.

A resolution was adopted urging the merchants to co-operate with the city authorities in an effort to keep the streets clean. The business section is a matter of great importance to the city, and the committee pointed out that the city is trying to keep Central avenue clean, but that merchants make the task difficult by sweeping trash of their stores on to the street. If this practice can be broken up, it was said, the city can have better success in its efforts.

Finish Lutheran Building March 1

ORANGE, Jan. 20.—March 1 will see the finishing touches being applied to the $60,000 social hall of St. John's Lutheran church, erected at East Almond avenue and Shaffer street, in memory of Charles K. Walker, it was stated today, by Ernest A. Schaefer, architect. A large force of men is at work rushing the structure to completion.

Flowers are finishing their work and painting and hardware installation will be started soon, Schaefer said.

The relatives were called here by the illness of Mrs. Dimock, daughter of Mrs. Lewis and sister of Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Cleaver, who has been at the Anaheim hospital since five weeks ago last Sunday. An operation was performed upon her entrance at the hospital and a blood transfusion was attempted the past week in an effort to improve her condition. No one is allowed to visit the patient.

J. A. Murdy was a Long Beach visitor Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Grana entertained Mrs. Grana's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Soude, of Los Angeles, in their home, Sunday.

CROSSING GATE FAILS TO STOP WOMAN DRIVER

FULLERTON, Jan. 20.—Crossing gates were apparently just an incident to a woman driver who passed along South Spadra road at a high rate of speed this morning.

A train was just approaching the crossing and the gates were closing. The woman, who was driving a car, stepped on the gas and after her car hit the stout beams with a resounding crash that was heard for several blocks, she drove right on, according to eye-witnesses, who estimated her speed at 40 miles per hour.

The heavy cast iron braces that reinforced the timbers were snapped off clean and the gates were splintered.

The number of the woman's car was not obtained, there being no numbers as they flashed by after the crash.

The gatesman began controlling traffic with a portable "stop" sign while repairs were in progress.

New Firms Open At Newport Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 20.—Several business deals were reported here today. During the past few weeks a number of businesses have changed hands and plans for several new buildings have been announced.

Yesterday, plans were announced by J. H. Estus, local plumber for a new plumbing shop to be erected on Central avenue.

Sam Stuffer, local grocer, has purchased the meat market formerly operated by J. Riley. Riley has moved away.

Gall Abrogast, a newcomer in Newport Beach, has taken over the Newport public market, which was opened here some time ago. He has installed a meat market.

Frank Suttro, local fish dealer; Hugh McMillan, fishing tackle dealer; Ray Bell, confectionery operator, and Ray Long, restaurant operator, have located in temporary structures on the sand just west of the Newport pier. The building formerly occupied by them is to be torn down and a new structure erected by B. K. Stone, of Pasadena.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 20.—Mary Lou Hare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orel C. Hare, was given a most delightful birthday party on Saturday by her grandmother, Mrs. Alice Hare, celebrating her 10th anniversary. PLANS FOR NEW PARK AND STREETS IN ORANGE ARE BACKED BY REALTY BOARD

ORANGE, Jan. 20.—Agitation for a city park has been undertaken by the Orange Realty board with the appointment of a committee to confer with like committees of other civic organizations on the matter, it was learned today.

Frank Hallman, president, and Thomas Green, secretary, were the members appointed on the committee. According to Hallman, the city park project is now the most vital thing to be considered by the residents of the city. Recreational facilities for both young and old would be provided by the park, it was explained, thus filling a need which at present is unsatisfied.

Other organizations expected to consider the matter include Orange Community Chamber and Commerce, the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, the Rotary club, Lions' club, the Women's club and the Business and Professional Women's club.

Another need of the city in the development of new through streets into the business center from the south and west was discussed. West Almond was suggested as the logical street to be opened to relieve congestion on West Chapman avenue, the main thoroughfare from Santa Ana and Los Angeles in Orange.

Realizing the increased scope of activity which the realty board is embarking in actually conducting a campaign for the above mentioned projects, the board voted to increase the membership dues from $21 to $25 per year.

Martha and Will Martin and Harvey Gall were appointed on a committee to revise the constitution.

The meeting last night opened at 6:30 o'clock with a banquet. A musical program was presented under the direction of Yorba Linda Masons. Music was furnished by the Schwaska orchestra. Mrs. E. Francis and Mrs. B. M. Selover each played piano selections and Miss Olive Gale sang several numbers.

Following the banquet the Masons adjourned for a short business session.

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Jan. 20.—Mrs. E. K. Kirby, Mrs. Arthur Staley, Mrs. W. C. McFarland and Mrs. J. W. Newell were guests on Tuesday at the general meeting of the Delphinian society at the El Toro hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Queyrel and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Minard attended a party on Monday evening given by the Franco-American club at the chamber of commerce rooms in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Harmony and son, Jack, were guests on Sunday of Mrs. Harmony's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Kragg, of Long Beach.

LEMON STREET SCHOOL FIRE TRAP, CHANGE

ORANGE, Jan. 20.—Discussion of the need of a new school building to replace the two-story structure on Lemon street featured the meeting of the Lemon street P. T. A. yesterday afternoon. The present building was labeled as an antique and a fire trap by members of the organization. It was pointed out that the building was one of the first to be built in Orange about 50 years ago. That heating, lighting and ventilation facilities are of the crudest sort was developed.

Although no definite action was taken, it was deemed advisable to bring the matter to the attention of the townspeople in an endeavor to make them realize the necessity of the new building.

An old-time spelling bee for adults and children to be held early in March was announced by George Sherwood, superintendent of schools. An art exhibit to be displayed at the intermediate school early in February was announced by Miss Frances J. Hell, of the high school faculty.

A letter of appreciation from J. Snowden of the Orange Mutual Citrus association for the assistance given by the women of the P. T. A. to the women of the Baptist Ladies' Aid in serving the annual citrus association dinner recently, was read to the body.

Mrs. L. F. Finley urged all members to attend a lecture to be given in the Washington school, Santa Ana, Monday, by Dr. Lela Beebe. The topic of the lecture was announced as "Tasafat and Child Care". Mrs. Finley also gave a report on the convention of county P. T. A. in Tustin recently.

Following the meeting a luncheon was served to the group by a committee of hostesses composed of Mrs. A. L. Spencer, Mrs. Mace and Mrs. A. N. Smith.

Olive Company Issues Dividend

OLIVE, Jan. 20.—Dividends amounting to $2600 were distributed among the 50 stockholders of the Olive Investment company at the annual meeting of the organization held yesterday in the First National Bank building. The usual five per cent dividend was augmented with an additional three per cent, realized through a greater number of water sales during the past year.

Following the hearing of reports and the declaration of the dividend, the directors for the year were elected. Of these, W. A. Greenleaf, Theodore Meiger and Fred T. Moenick were added to the board. N. Wolff, A. C. Fletcher, E. M. Crawford and N. Tayan were re-elected. The directors elected K. V. Wolff, president; E. M. Crawford, secretary, and L. P. Chuning, secretary.

The First National bank was named to handle the funds of the organization.

S. A. Woman Beach P. T. A. Speaker

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Earl Morris, of Santa Ana, manager of the national bureau of program service for the Parent-Teacher association, yesterday addressed members of the local P. T. A. She spoke on the subject of "The History of the P. T. A. and Its Aims."

The P. T. A. started a membership drive at the meeting. The membership drive opens at once and will close February 15. Children of the grammar school have been divided in two sides and a prize is being offered by the organization to the side securing the largest number of new members.

Mrs. B. Wittmeier, president, was in charge of the meeting yesterday.

Anaheim Citrus Manager Leaves On Eastern Trip

ANAHEIM, Jan. 20.—J. H. Ritchie, manager of the Anaheim Co-operative Orange association, has left for principal points in the east, where he plans to spend a month studying market conditions and attending to other matters affecting the local association. In his absence Edward Mills, assistant manager, is in charge of the plant.

Mr. Ritchie's principal destination is Wilmington, Del., but he will also visit the fruit markets of New York, Boston, Chicago and Pittsburgh and may also pay a visit to Florida on his return.

He is making the trip in a party of other orange men from California and Texas, who are on similar missions.

GOLDEN RULE IN BUSINESS URGED

ORANGE, Jan. 20.—Pointing out the success of "Golden Rule" Nash, clothing manufacturer of Ohio, and Henry Ford, F. L. Carrier, professor of dramatics at the Orange union high school, advocated a more general practice of the Golden Rule in business before the Lions' club yesterday.

Shorter hours, better living conditions for employees and more considerate treatment of customers have made the two manufacturers famous, Carrier stated.

Vocal numbers were rendered by two high school girls, and Maurice Phillips, Santa Ana Lion.

Fred Peck presided as chairman.

Salvation Army Nears Fund Goal

ORANGE, Jan. 20.—Salvation Army workers under Envoys V. B. Rhea will reach their goal within two weeks, it was indicated today with the preliminary report of the heads of the divisions making the solicitations in the business district.

Although actual figures could not be given, the Elks making the rounds in the northwest part of the city believe that they made the quota assigned, Rhea said.

The American Legion committee, which has worked out the plan of the business district assigned by the end of the week, it was thought.

SPRINGDALE

SPRINGDALE, Jan. 20.—County examinations have been taken this week by the members of the section of the business district assigned by the end of the week, it was thought.

Norman Ruoff has been a visitor in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ruoff, and on Sunday he had as callers, William Adkinson, of the San Diego Military academy, which Ruoff attends, and Mrs. Adkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Roberson entertained over Saturday night and Sunday in their home, Mr. Roberson's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moore, of Santa Ana. The two couples attended church at Wintersburg Sunday morning.

Mrs. William Phillips had as a visitor for several days, a friend, Mrs. B. S. White, of Los Angeles.

The vacant house on the Albert Ruoff place has been sold and this week was moved to the Aldrich tract at Anaheim.

A number of the ranchers are ditching out ready for irrigating their bean land. This is about two weeks earlier than irrigation began last season.

DEATH PENALTY IS SUBJECT OF KIWANIS TALK

With several bills, providing for abolition of capital punishment, under consideration in the state legislature, the death penalty, in its somber aspects, held the center of the stage at yesterday's meeting of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club, with Dr. Edwin P. Ryland, well known Los Angeles clergyman as the principal speaker. President Olyn N. Robertson presided over the meeting and Jess Goodman was in charge of the program.

In introducing his subject, Dr. Ryland, who is a member of the state advisory committee of the California branch of the National League to Abolish Capital Punishment, told his listeners that he is opposed to the death penalty. Throughout his address he dealt with the subject in an impartial way, admitting that there are two sides to the question. He also announced that, because of the limited time allotted him, he would not be able to cover the various phases of the issue.

Arguments for and against the death penalty must be judged according to the particular philosophy of life advanced, he declared. "If we subscribe to the belief that death ends all and there is no hereafter, then capital punishment is no punishment at all. On the other hand, if we believe that personality exists after death, then the taking of a human life entails a serious responsibility."

Tells of Experiences

The speaker told, in graphic and eloquent terms, his experiences in visiting various prisons, where he had come into contact with the prisoners serving life sentence for murder. Prison officials, themselves, admit, Dr. Ryland asserted, that, as a rule, those who have been "sent up" for capital crimes are model prisoners.

He called attention to the fact that many murders occur under the stress of violent emotions; others are the results of sudden flashes of anger.

Dr. Ryland went into the history of the death penalty. He declared that its origin is the law of revenge, the old Mosaic law, "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." He said that only 140 years ago there were 160 offenses punishable by death in England.

"Did Christ teach the doctrine of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth?" This, the speaker said, was the question asked him over the phone a certain morning a few years ago by the editor of a Los Angeles newspaper. The question had particular reference to the case of a Los Angeles "newsie," who, before reaching legal age, had been implicated in a murder and was sentenced to the gallows.

Effort Made to Save Boy

An effort was made to save the lad and to that end the recommendation of a certain judge was necessary.

"But the judge declined to interfere on behalf of the lad and he was hanged," continued the speaker. He went on to say that society was to blame, in a measure, for the boy's downfall.

Returning to the question asked by the Los Angeles newspaper editor, the churchman declared that Christ never gave his sanction to the old Mosaic law, but, on the contrary, spoke against it in the "Sermon on the Mount."

He followed with the statement that misapprehension as to the teachings of the Master on the parts of many persons are responsible for their attitude toward capital punishment.

If the death penalty has revenge for its main reason, then it is wrong, he added. In order to protect society, he suggested that those found guilty of capital crimes be incarcerated for life.

Large Birthday Cake

A large birthday cake, on the speaker's table, marked the twelfth anniversary of the Kiwanis International. The presentation speech was made by Col. M. B. Wellington, in the course of which he gave a brief outline of the history of the Santa Ana club and its accomplishments.

What proved a pleasant surprise on the program was the appearance of the Cotton Blossom Singers, a colored church organization from the Piney Woods school, Piney Woods, Miss.

ALLIANCE OFFICER WILL SPEAK AT Y.

With Harry N. Holmes, field secretary of the World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches, and an outstanding figure in the cause of promoting international friendship, as the principal speaker, reservations are already beginning to be received for the annual membership meeting of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., set for Tuesday evening, February 1, in the association building.

Holmes will speak on "The Supreme Opportunity of Our Generation." He is now on his way to the Pacific Coast from the east, where he addressed packed houses on international relations and correlated subjects.

Last Monday, he spoke before the ministers of Kansas City, taking as subject, "The Problems of the Pacific Ocean—the Third Mediterranean of History."

Pleads Not Guilty To Traffic Charge

Lee Piau, prominent Newport Beach real estate dealer, appeared in Judge J. F. Talbot's court yesterday afternoon on a charge of reckless driving and pleaded not guilty. He waived a jury trial and his case was set for 10 a. m., January 26.

Piau was released on his own recognizance by Judge Talbot. Mrs. Theodore Neal, 1227 South Garnsey street, is the complaining witness in the case against the real estate man. She swore to a complaint against him yesterday, charging that Piau drove in a reckless manner on South Main street on January 8.

PROGRAM FOR GRADUATION AT WILLARD GIVEN

Plans for the graduation of the spring class at Frances E. Willard junior high school were announced today as follows:

On Friday, January 21, at 2 p. m., the students are invited to go to the high school, where they will be shown about the buildings by members of the high school student body.

On Sunday evening, January 22, at 7 o'clock, promotion services will be held in the First Methodist church. Willard graduates will meet in the basement of the church at 6:30 o'clock. They will enter the church by the north entrance, and take reserved seats in the center of the church. Seats also will be reserved for the parents of the boys and girls in the class.

Class day will be held at the school auditorium on Thursday, January 27, at 1 o'clock.

January 28 is promotion day. At 7:30, members of the class will go to the high school auditorium for the assignment of places and practice of songs. Promotion exercises will take place in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock Friday, January 28. Members of the class are asked to meet at 7:30 and each one take his assigned seat on the stage. The program will consist of musical numbers by the pupils of both schools, one or two special numbers, and the presentation of certificates of promotion by J. A. Craton, city superintendent of schools, followed by the singing of "America, the Beautiful," and the recitation of the flag salute by the class.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 20.—Mrs. M. C. Hazard was hostess to the Elite club of Huntington Beach, of which she is a member, on Friday afternoon, and following the business meeting, games were played. Fifteen Elite members and one visitor were present at the social affair and announcement was made that the next club meeting is to be held with Mrs. Florence Hunter at her home at 2010 Thirteenth street, Huntington Beach.

Saturday evening, Mrs. Iva Hazard and Mrs. Eva Hicks, of this place, attended a theater party in Long Beach with nine of the Elite club members, afterward enjoying a dinner party.

The H-Y boys held their regular weekly meeting on Monday evening, playing a game of basketball besides holding their usual study period. Several of the H-Y members happened to be out of town on this evening so the group is looking forward to a full attendance on next Monday evening when it is expected that all the boys will be present. Monday has now been chosen as the regular day for meeting and the Wintersburg social hall the meeting place.

Mrs. Mary E. Clemens has been spending a few days in Santa Ana with Mrs. B. A. Farrar, former resident of this district, who sustained severe burns about the face when a gas stove, at her home exploded recently. Mrs. Farrar is under a physician's care and is improving from her injuries.

Mrs. Mildred Payn, teacher of the third grade in the Oceanview grammar school, is ill at her home on the Huntington Beach boulevard with measles and during her absence a substitute teacher from Santa Ana is in charge of her class.

Nick Portz and mother, Mrs. Catherine Portz, and Miss Helen Leverich, of Long Beach, were Sunday guests in the W. P. Trece home.

Mrs. Jack Whitsett, of Huntington Beach, and Mrs. W. DeLaverne and Mrs. Clarence Breeding called Tuesday on Mrs. W. P. Trece.

Mrs. Robert Jenkins and Mrs. M. C. Hazard attended the Mooseheart dance held at the Antlers hall at Huntington Beach.

Mrs. Eva Russell and son, Bill Russell, and Mr. Russell's parents, who left Wintersburg three weeks ago for Los Cruces, New Mexico, are expected to return Saturday. The party made the trip in their car and, laded with relatives while at Los Cruces while attending to the sale of their property there.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins had as their guests, Andy Miller, of Torrance, and his brother, Emmett Miller, of Texas.

The nine fur-bearing rabbits which were on exhibit at the Los Angeles county rabbit show held at the Ambassador hotel, from the Hazard and Sparks rabbit farm in Wintersburg, were brought home Monday, the show having closed Sunday night. The rabbits took nine prizes.

Mrs. W. P. Trece had as luncheon guests in her home Saturday, her mother, Mrs. A. C. Portz, of Long Beach, and Mrs. E. Barnes and Mrs. W. Young, friends from Beverly Hills.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Kit Carson

Sketches By Kroesen
Synopsis By Braucher

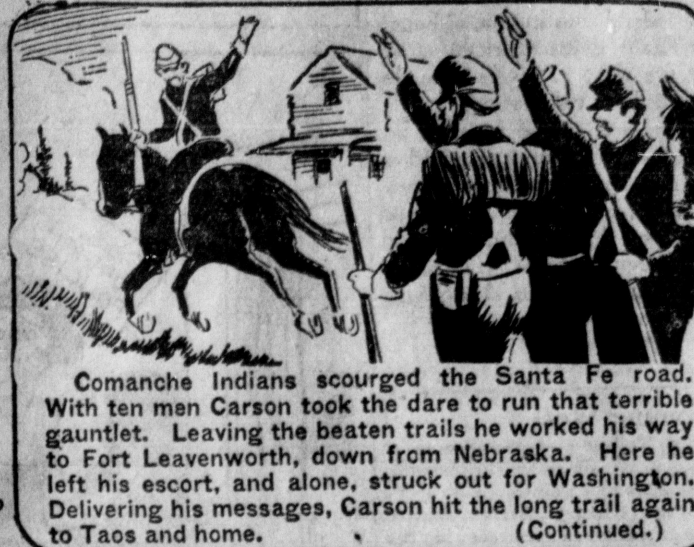

In Washington, President Polk and Congress received Carson as a lion, the tales of his exploits through the west having reached the capital. Polk made him a lieutenant and sent him to Monterey with a detachment to guard the passes against the Indians throughout the winter of 1847.

In the spring Carson again set out with dispatches to Washington. At Santa Fe he learned that the Senate had refused to confirm his appointment as lieutenant.

Friends urged him to "let them get somebody else to do their dirty work," but Carson felt he was rendering his country a service and pushed on.

Comanche Indians scourged the Santa Fe road. With ten men Carson took the dare to run that terrible gauntlet. Leaving the beaten trails he worked his way to Fort Leavenworth, down from Nebraska. Here he left his escort, and alone, struck out for Washington. Delivering his messages, Carson hit the long trail again to Taos and home.

BARBERS FAVOR
COPELAND FOR CLOSING BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Who gets the smoothest and most painless shave in Washington?

Who gets the most meticulous hair-cut?

Who is spared the necessity of refusing singe, hair tonic, massage, shampoo, eyebrow manicuring and all the other expensive tonorial niceties inflicted on a customer with weak will power?

Who is spared a barrage of superfluous conversation unless he asks for it?

The answer to these questions is Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, the barber's Moses.

For Copeland has introduced a bill into congress which would close all barber shops in the District of Columbia on Sundays.

Best-Groomed Senator

He has excited the admiration of both employer barbers and employee barbers. They treat him well. He is the best groomed senator.

Copeland, the former health commissioner of New York, expects that, when and if the bill becomes law, similar beneficial legislation will be passed elsewhere.

"The barber is entitled to one day off a week and he can't get it," says Copeland. "When one barber shop stays open Sunday they all stay open, lest they lose business."

"If we have a law, one barber can know that another barber won't take his business. He can go out on Sunday with his wife and the kids. He can take in some fresh air."

Many years ago Copeland was mayor of Ann Arbor, Mich. He became the first mayor to close saloons during proscript hours—four a.m.—because he came to realize that most saloonkeepers held open illegally merely because their competitors did.

His barber bill is one measure which will not be attributed to political moves. Tammany is reported rather cold toward giving Copeland another term in the senate and Copeland is reported rather warm in his desire to convince his constituents and party leaders that his renomination and election are deserved. His recent jump into the senatorial tent contingent is cited and he is expected to make a vigorous campaign for renewed popularity back home.

Well Known As Joiner

Copeland is a "joiner" second to none. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon, New York Athletic club, National Democratic club, Transportation club, Sons of the American Revolution, Knights Templar, Mystic Shrine, Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, honorary member of the stationary engineers' local, Knights of the Macabees, surgeon general of National Stewards' association, Housenport Country club, vice president of American Public Health association, ex-president of the University of Michigan club and the Michigan society of New York, to say nothing of membership in the Newspaper club and Press club of New York, the Hundred Year club, of Chicago, and the National Press club, of Washington.

CROSS, FEVERISH
CHILD IS BILIOUS
OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! See if tongue is coated, breath hot or stomach sour

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels

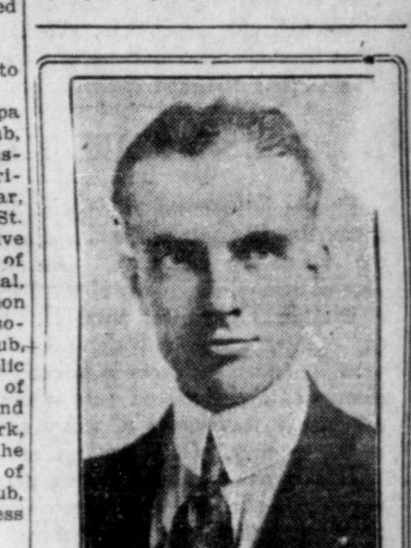

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Fig Syrup," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless, "fruity laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, sold by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

BEAUTY CHATS

YOUTHFUL TOUCHES

This being an age when no woman is ashamed of trying to look younger than she is, there are several "tricks" that she ought to know about. I do not mean cosmetics this time; every one knows that some cosmetics are good for some purposes and even if they aren't, they won't do any harm and they'll at least amuse her and make her feel younger.

What we are doing these days is to set the clock back as far as feminine age is concerned. There was a time, not a century ago, when a girl who didn't marry at 18 was dangerously near being thought an old maid. We're barely sending our girls to college at that time! For longer than we can remember, 30 has been the beginning of middle age. But no longer! Thirtiety is only old to girls of 18 these days.

So there's no reason why the woman of 30 or more shouldn't do everything she can to look young—girlish even—if she can manage it successfully. Here are some tricks: Short skirts help, of course, so let's hope the craze for them doesn't die out too soon. Of course, the legs must be slim and well formed; slim, at least, for fat legs will not add to anyone's youthful appearance. The low waistline that makes the figure look straight also helps, especially if the figure is mature.

An open neck, especially V or U shape, helps. Only the very youthful girls can wear high collars. And a white collar does more than anything else to make the face young. Whether it is plainly tailored, or frilly or pleated, does not matter; in fact it can be pale flesh color or beige as well as white. There is just something about a white or light color collar on a dark dress that takes years and years away from the age of the face. Even the stiff Eton collars which come in vogue from time to time do it; possibly because we associate them with youth.

E. H.—Sometimes pimples continue because they reinfest the skin, so you might work along this line and see if you do not end the attacks. Any antiseptic treatment will do but a very effective one is to dust flour of sulphur on the pimples, especially those coming to a head. A simpler way is to use an ointment in which there is some sulphur, but not so good as the sulphur by itself. The lifeless appearance of your skin to-

Just Folks

by Edgar A. Guest

We're much like, where'er we are, In traveling round I find, Whether though large or small the People of every kind, The banker, baker, butcher man, The minister with his prayer, Whether thou large or small the clan, Everyone that we know is there.

In town or city it's just the same, The generous man is known, The man who has come to a little fame, The woman who dwells alone, The stingy man that they jest about, The widow with silvered hair, The doctor they never could do without, You'll find that they all are there.

For a city is villages multiplied, And a village a street or two Where men and women walk side by side, Doing just what all humans do, And there's never a place on earth so small That cannot our story tell, For whatever the types, it has them all, From the saint to the ne'er-do-well.

Ice Cream, Western Magic, Triumphed Over Eastern Tradition When Chinese Royalty Posed for American Woman Artist

BY VIRGINIA SWAIN
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The head that wears a crown differs not so much from the head that wears a felt sport hat. Women are women in the land of jade and ivory, as in the land of flippers and bobbed hair.

And every girl like strawberry ice cream.

Leonel Jacobs, famous New York pastel artist, returns from Peking, with a tale of how a dish of strawberry ice cream won from the titular girl empress of China what strategy and diplomatic wiles have never won—consent to have her portrait painted.

Mrs. Jacobs' pastel of the empress is the first picture ever made in the royal palace, and today it hangs in the empress' own boudoir, or whatever she calls her little paper-walled, lily-scented chamber. And the door gods and the ancestors and all the other Chinese lares and penates probably are shivering with rage at the desecration of old tradition.

Never before in the history of China has an empress or any other woman of royal blood allowed her face to be reproduced for the hot polloi.

A Cold Reception

Mrs. Jacobs did it with ice cream. Visiting an influential American lawyer's wife in Tientsin, she hung her best pastels in the drawing room and invited the emperor and empress to view them. When they came, she served ice cream.

Ice cream is the one sure way to the Chinese heart. Before the call was ended, she had won the empress' consent to pose.

Great as was the thrill of painting an empress, it was no new experience to Mrs. Jacobs. She has done probably more celebrities than any other living painter. Presidents Harding and Coolidge, Bertha Cantacuzene, Ethel Barrymore, Targore, Alice Longworth, John Erskine, Clemenceau and Madame Wellington Koo are in her gallery, to say nothing of Chinese princesses, French counts, and Arabian poets.

She says they are less difficult to work with than the unimportant persons she has painted. All human beings, from kings to coolies, dance on the same strings—sympathy, friendliness, interest.

Success in portrait painting rests first of all on the artist's ability to grasp personalities, to strike the note that makes the model comfortable and gains his trust.

"The empress and emperor of China are the most friendly, childishly trusting persons you can imagine," Mrs. Jacobs says. "Almost always I have found great personages approachable."

"People told me that President Coolidge was cold and difficult to talk to. Therefore, when he sat for me, I worked silently, believing him lost in thought. Suddenly he said, 'Your hair is just the color of mine!' He was as pleased with the idea that both of us had orange hair as a child might have been."

The girl empress of China, a pastel by Leonel Jacobs.

Though the portrait of the Chinese empress illustrates how beautiful the Manchu women may be, Mrs. Jacobs believes that the finest feminine faces in the world are American.

"Chinese women and some Europeans have delicate features, exquisite coloring and fragility," she says. "But none of them know life as American women know it. "The sheltered life of the Chinese empress, for example, produces a face as pretty and as quiet as that of a doll. But in comparison, a woman like Ethel Barrymore or Alice Longworth can lay claim to far greater beauty. Their faces show character molded by varied experience."

"Whereas Oriental women worship beauty for itself, American women want their faces to show intelligence. Alice Roosevelt, however, was the only woman of any race who actually asked me not to soften a single line in her face."

QUEER QUIRKS
OF NATURE

BY ARTHUR N. PACK
President, American Nature Ass'n.

"Mother," asked a little girl as she flattened her diminutive nose against the Pullman window, "why are those birds out there in the water on stilts?"

The mother explained about the storks, herons and cranes, which nature has provided with long stilt-like legs, that they can wade through muddy swamps and brackish water without soiling their immaculate feathers.

The mother told how in Sweden, Denmark and Holland she had seen many houses where platforms had been built on the roofs of houses to encourage the storks to build their nests. The storks had responded and year after year had added to their nests of rough sticks until they had become so high as to look funny perched up there on the roofs. Europeans so carefully protect these birds that they have become very tame and friendly.

Green herons are called the "solemn fishermen of the marshes." They are solitary birds, and it is only at mating and nesting time that they may be found together. After the family life is at an end,

These birds range from southern Canada to the tropics, and have been accused of laziness, but their activity increases toward evening because it is then that they can most easily secure their food.

The baby birds in the picture are anxiously awaiting the return of the parent bird, with an eye to a good supper which may consist of a tiny fish, a small crustacean, perhaps a meadow mouse, or a grain or two of some seeds.

A COMPLETE BUDGET

Business men will give their commendation to Governor Young's budget. They may not approve his decision in relation to the items of the budget, but they will recognize the methods used as systematic and businesslike. Particularly will they give their approval to including in the budget every item of state expenditure.

Hitherto, governors have seen fit to eliminate various items, the purpose seeming to be to make a showing of economy, desiring to dodge unfavorable comparisons with budgets of other administrations. The tendency, therefore, was for each governor to eliminate more items than had been eliminated by his predecessor.

Governor Young went into the budget with a view of making it complete. The total would look big, but the people of the state were entitled to the exact total. A lot of time will be saved at the legislature, time hitherto given over to attacks and explanations over why certain items were included or were not included in the budget.

A business man knows that a budget is not a budget unless it lays the whole project on the table in a straight-forward fashion. And that's what Governor Young promised to do and has done.

BATHING PARADE VS. SWIM

It's off with the old and on with the new. Beach cities are talking of turning their backs on bathing girl parades as a publicity stunt. Beside a channel swim or any other kind of an old swim, these days, a bathing parade is the worst kind of an old has-been. Why, any old beach can get us a bathing parade, and most of them have had a lot of them, and it only draws a crowd for a day, if that. But a channel swim! See what Wrigley got for his $25,000!

Two Long Beach city councilmen have sensed the changing style in marine publicity. They say they are off on any more abbreviated bathing suit shows; they are ready to back a channel swim, however, one that will either start or end at Long Beach. We welcome the change. We don't care so much what they abandon bathing girl parades for, just so long as they abandon them for something.

THE SPY SCARE IN EUROPE

Europe is reported to be stirred by an espionage scare, the first international alarm of the sort since the end of the World war. As must be in such a state of affairs, rumors fly about faster than facts and in considerably greater numbers. Foreigners in every country are kept under police surveillance and even American residents in Great Britain must carry identity cards. Scotland Yard is said to know almost the hourly movements of every suspected foreigner in the country. Other nations are equally vigilant.

This is one of those foolish performances which ought to make self-respecting, civilized, friendly nations a little ashamed of themselves. There can't be so very many important military, chemical or even diplomatic secrets in these days that are worth much spying after. Specialists and experts in one country can usually hit upon inventions, discoveries and plans just as valuable as the ones so guarded by others. It would be much safer for all concerned to be a little more frank and generous about such matters instead of more secretive. The fears and suspicions engendered by secrecy and the resulting espionage scares are far more deadly than the secrets themselves.

In this connection it is interesting to recall that Great Britain and the United States have a gentleman's agreement to ask each other outright for any desired information, military or otherwise. It is a small step toward international frankness, but a good one.

A SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST

In the middle west not all interscholastic competition ends with the football season. Recently 64,500 students in 324 high schools in Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Colorado and Oklahoma tackled scholarship tests in algebra, plane geometry, biology, chemistry, physics, the Constitution, American history, Latin and high school English.

The tests were uniform, prepared by the Emporia Teachers college. All the results are to be sent to the bureau of measurements at that college, where they will be tabulated so that individual schools may compare the records of their own students with those of any or all the other schools competing.

And when the contest is over, and brains have been matched, and highest records published—what then? Nothing much, perhaps, except the stimulation of keener interest in scholarship, in good teaching and good schools. Which may be no less important than interest in athletics.

STATE LAWS NOT ENOUGH

The committee on child welfare of the National League of Women Voters has been studying the child labor situation throughout the country, primarily to discover whether children are receiving under state legislation as much protection as they would have received under either of the former federal laws. The conclusion they have reached is that state labor laws are not enough. They find:

1. Even with recent improvements state laws do not accord children adequate protection against the evils of child labor.
2. Federal child labor legislation (in effect for nearly four years during the period 1917-1922) assisted in improving the situation by automatically raising standards in states where they were conspicuously low, by encouraging states to pass increasingly good laws and by developing enforcement methods.
3. Only one state with low standards has brought up its state laws to the very moderate standards of the two federal laws, even as regards work in factories, since the second federal law was declared unconstitutional.

The league's committee seems to feel that the backward states never will raise their standards unless they are spurred on by national authority. The league points out the fact that the proposed Child Labor amendment to the federal constitution, although not ratified, also is not finally defeated, since subsequent legislatures have the right to reverse the decisions of those that turned down ratification.

The whole subject, therefore, should be kept before the public eye until all the country's children are afforded at least a reasonable minimum of protection. With the approaching observance of National Child Labor day the end of this month, intelligent discussion of the situation ought to be in order in every group and organization interested in child-saving and its resultant citizen-saving.

Navy Coming West

Oakland Tribune

At a time when Stanford is not over enthusiastic on the subject of post-season games, a report reaches Palo Alto that the United States Naval Academy is anxious to arrange a contest in the Stanford stadium for next year.

If the game is to be played, says the Palo Alto Times, it should be understood it is merely a contest between two educational institutions and without significance as an inter-sectional or national championship affair.

Lovers of sport will agree that the post-season "championship" games have been unsatisfactory. After combing the country for teams to accept the invitations, the promoters have put before the public and on a field alien to each, two teams which are either over-trained or out of training. If the Navy team does come West to play Stanford it will be as a visit of one college team to another, a legitimate competition and as such will arouse enthusiasm. Incidentally, with the California game and the Navy one at Stanford next year the stadium there will come into its own and a larger number of fans will learn of the admirable manner with which college and city handle the crowds.

Look Out for Children

Fresno Republican

The proposal to guarantee the care of children before any divorce shall be granted, that is sought in a bill at Sacramento, is a good one.

In fact, the rights of children are about all the rights that the state should worry about, in divorce cases.

At best, interference by government, or society, or any one else, in married life, is fruitless. All that society, the church, or the government can do, that is of value, is to prepare people to lead decent and happy married lives. Interference to keep people together that do not want to be together is patchwork, at best.

But the state does have a duty to care for the children that parents ignore. Many parents make a great show of concern for their children, after divorce, when they would have been much better occupied in trying to see that their children have fathers and mothers amiably inclined toward each other.

People who seek divorce, as a usual thing, now seek it for their personal selfish advantage. The government should make sure that the interests of the children come first.

Mail Box Abuses

New Orleans Times-Picayune

Assistant Postmaster-General Billany, in charge of this branch of postal work, has warned all persons concerned that the boxes on the R. F. D. routes are for the reception exclusively for mails and not for advertising and other similar matter. Therefore, an order has been issued that carriers finding circulars, bills, etc., in the boxes are to take such matter to the distributing office and to hold it for postage under existing postal laws and regulations. This is in all respects a proper course and we might add it's not only the rural free delivery boxes that offer temptation to those eager for cheap distribution of their announcements.

LIGHT—IT HELPS OR HURTS OUR EYES

All over the world attention is being given more and more to the question of proper illumination of homes, factories and schools, with a view to the health aspects of the situation.

A special report of the British Medical Research Council, analyzing available literature, indicates that close work is best observed by monochromatic rays from the blue end of the spectrum, whereas distant objects are best seen in the red end, and general detail is brought out best by white light.

A normal eye under ordinary illumination can be used continuously for three or four hours with the eye maintaining a practically constant efficiency.

Continuous intensive eyestrain, as for example, that of airship observers during flight, will produce signs of visual acuity, images seen after the original observation, and inco-ordination of the eye muscles.

A study of the lighting of postoffices made by the United States Public Health Service involved the detailed examination of 2449 postoffice employees.

It was found that fewer than 20 per cent had normal vision and that fewer than 17 per cent had both vision and eyes wholly free from defects.

The group with the best vision obtained a maximum amount of work output at eight-foot candles illumination, while the group with the worst vision did not obtain its maximum work output until the illumination reached 14-foot candles. The average daylight in postoffices is 12-foot candles.

Several recent observations of lighting in the home point out that the eye is adapted to a wide range of intensity of light, but emphasize the danger of undue glare. All artificial light sources should be shaded and glossy surfaces should be avoided, especially on printed paper.

Several investigators recently have urged the use of artificial illumination or of especially prepared window glass for schools which would permit children to receive regularly a definite amount of ultraviolet rays.

There seems to be no doubt that ultraviolet light is valuable in aiding proper body growth through its effects on nutrition and the absorption of food substances. However, the possible effects of long continued or over-exposure to ultraviolet light have not been definitely established.

American physicians are inclined to delay such movements for the utilization of ultraviolet rays until a time when sufficient experimentation shall have been done to avoid the possibility of bad effects from over-exposure.

The War Seems to Be Here at Home

Fairness Should Mark All Criticism

Pasadena Star-News

Americans are too prone to criticize hastily and without full knowledge. The sensational press has had much to do with fostering this mischievous practice. In quest of sensations, at all times, newspapers of this type take ex parte statements or circumstances and weave them into something startling. The impression created by such publications may be damaging to the nation, to the state or to the smaller locality. Or the reputation of a person or persons may be involved. By the sensational method of presenting "news," mere gossip and scandal mongering may be given with as much convincing assertion of finality as though it were quoted from Holy Writ.

It is becoming to an intelligent, free and fair-minded people to be slow and conservative in judgment, where criticism or condemnation of government, or public officials, or public policies, or the private life of individual citizens are involved. It is flagrantly unfair to condemn any government, institution, interest or person on mere one-sided hearsay, or in prejudiced allegations, or on sensational publications.

If the American public were less prone to take up and to accept sensational and scandalous reports, there would be less indulgence in the pernicious practice of broadcasting these things.

Worth While Verse

The man of life upright,
Whose guileless heart is free
From all dishonest deeds,
Or thought of vanity;

The man whose silent days
In harmless joys are spent,
Whom hopes cannot delude
Nor sorrow discontent;

That man needs neither towers
Nor armor for defense,
Nor secret vaults to fly
From thunder's violence:
He only can behold
With unafraid eyes
The horrors of the deep
And terrors of the skies.

Thus scorning all the cares
That fate or fortune brings,
He makes the heavens his book,
His wisdom heavenly things;

Good thoughts his only friend,
His wealth a well-spent age,
The earth his sober inn
And quiet pilgrimage.

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles based on the revenue act of 1926, written by the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue.

No. 1
Anomalous as it may seem, a person may be married and yet single for the purposes of the income-tax law. To be allowed an exemption of $3,500, a married couple must have "lived together," in the eyes of the law, for the entire taxable year. However, in the absence of continuous residence together, the question of whether man and wife are living together depends upon the character of the separation. If, occasionally, the husband is away on business, or if, for any necessary reason, a temporary separation exists, the full exemption is allowed. The presence of a wife at a sanatorium, or her unavoidable absence because of ill-health does not change their status, and the full exemption is allowed the husband. But when the husband deliberately and continuously makes his home at one place and the wife at another, they are classed as single persons, and each is allowed an exemption of $1,500 only.

In the absence of continuous actual residence together, whether a person with dependent relatives is the head of a family, and therefore entitled to an exemption of $3,500, also depends upon the character of the separation. If a father is away on business, or a child or other dependent away at school or on a visit, the common home being maintained, the exemption applies. If a parent is obliged to maintain his

Fine Street Trees Help To Promote Development

Sacramento Bee

Most California towns and cities are ambitious for greater growth, and the state as a whole is making gratifying gains in both population and business. Even a comparatively small community may have a chamber of commerce, although its trade perhaps is almost wholly local.

Efforts to promote increase and expansion commonly are of an advertising nature, and, if well directed, usually give good results. But there seems to be less appreciation than there should be of the fact that one of the best ways of attracting home-seekers and new industries to any locality is to make it a better and more pleasing place of residence for those already there.

That has been one of the chief means of promoting growth in many communities of Southern California. From their very beginning, such places as Riverside, Redlands, Ontario, Upland, Pasadena and numerous other attractive cities or towns in the "southern citrus belt" have taken pains to provide their streets and avenues with an abundance of trees desirable for shade and ornament. And, largely or even chiefly for that reason those places have become famous.

Sacramento also is noted for the beauty of the street trees in many parts of the city, but at present there is an unfortunate tendency to disregard or even sacrifice these community assets at the short-sighted and selfish call of "business."

That a wiser and more progressive view may be helped in this city, and throughout Superior California, The Bee republishes these extracts from an editorial in a recent number of the Riverside Press:

The three most famous avenues in California are Magnolia avenue and Victoria avenue in Riverside and Euclid avenue in Ontario; and as to such of these drives the trees are the feature on which their fame is largely based.

The roses on Magnolia and Victoria avenues and the lawn in the center of Euclid avenue at Ontario are also factors in attracting favorable notice. . . .

The beauty and fame of all three of these drives have been very well maintained; but the writer is forced to admit that Ontario and Upland have been more generous in keeping up Euclid avenue than Riverside has been in preserving and enlarging the beauties of Magnolia and Victoria avenues.

The trees at Ontario are especially well cared for; and the stretch of lawn that extends for a mile and a half, from Ontario nearly to Upland, is a feature that Riverside cannot boast.

Private enterprise and interest have supplemented what the city has done for the two avenues in Riverside; but the future policy of the city should include better care and more adequate development for both of these avenues.

The wider use of the automobile has resulted in giving these scenic drives far greater value and importance than they had when they were first laid out. Almost all the tourists who come to Riverside see Magnolia and Victoria avenues; and their first impressions of the city are influenced in an important degree by reaction of these drives.

We cannot afford to let them become unkempt and ragged; and we cannot afford to allow magnificent trees to be sacrificed by the whim of some property owner who has no conception of the cash value of these historic and artistic features of the city.

The tone and spirit of these extracts, no less than the facts they mention, are highly instructive. They illustrate the fine civic pride and love of civic beauty which animate the communities they mention.

A point of importance in this regard is that the attractiveness of streets and highways from trees cannot safely be left merely to planting and care by property owners acting individually. Community or other systematic organized effort is essential to the best results in selection and maintenance of trees, to insure harmony of effect, freedom from unsightly gaps, and unsatisfactory results due to haphazard and unsystematic choice of varieties or species.

In all such matters planning, direction, conservation, control and care should be placed and retained in capable hands, for the benefit of the whole community, and not merely to favor individual whims or prejudices.

Once Upon a Time

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS

THE old way of training children which was akin to military discipline is fast losing favor because we are believing in the appeal to reason and intelligence. We now tell a child why he is asked to do this and so, and we find that his reactions are so much more healthful and constructive. One of the best character building influences we can find is in literature. A child will listen eagerly from the "Once upon a time" beginning to the "Lived happily ever after" and absorb quantities of the same influence he would quite naturally resist if preached at him. We're all somewhat like that, you know: we like our necessary dosages trimmed up a little bit.

ONCE a once-upon-a-time-ish little boy
Met a once-upon-a-time-ish little girl,
And the little girl was lean
While the little boy was fat;
And the little girl was clean,
While the boy was scarcely that,
But that was only once-upon-a-time!

By a once-upon-a-time-ish meadow brook
Was a once-upon-a-time-ish billy goat,
And he pushed the little boy
In the water with a thud,
And the little girl so coy,
In the sticky, dirty mud,
But that was only once-upon-a-time!

Then the once-upon-a-time-ish billy goat
Laughed a very billy goat-ish kind of laugh
About the little girl so lean
And the little boy so fat—
For the little boy was clean
While the girl was scarcely that—
But that was only once-upon-a-time!
